The quantitative models described are also used to assess the impact of future interest rates on investment decisions. These projects involve the deep application of algebra taught by the students.

The course also covers the use of the binomial model for interest rate derivatives and the use of the Black-Scholes model for option pricing.

Students are encouraged to work on their own assignments, provided by the course, and to discuss their findings with the instructor.

- 1) Deriving the Black-Scholes formula for option pricing
- 2) Using the binomial model for interest rate derivatives
- 3) Estimating the impact of interest rate changes
