Applied Linguistics and Materials Development Brian Tomlinson, 2012-12-06 Focuses for the first time on materials development and applications of current research and theory for the main areas of applied linguistics e.g. second language acquisition pragmatics vocabulary studies There are many books on applied linguistic theory and research and there are now a number of books on the principled development of materials for language learning but this book takes a new approach by connecting the two concerns Each of its chapters first of all presents relevant theories and research conclusions for its area and then considers practical applications for materials development The chapters achieve these applications by reporting and commenting on current theory and research by analysing the match between current published materials and current theory and by suggesting and exemplifying applications of current theory to materials development This will be an essential resource both for those studying or teaching materials development and for those studying or teaching applied linguistics

SLA Research and Materials Development for Language Learning Brian Tomlinson, 2016-05-20 SLA Research and Materials Development for Language Learning is the only book available to focus on the interaction between second language acquisition theory and materials development for language learning. It consists of contributions written by experts in SLA, experts in materials development, researchers who have expertise in both fields, and introductions and conclusions by the editor. The book is organized into four major sections: position statements, materials driven by SLA theory, evaluations of materials in relation to SLA theory, and proposals for action that offer a diverse range of perspectives while maintaining a cohesive and comprehensive overview on the subject. This book is ideal for post graduate courses in applied linguistics and second language acquisition and for researchers interested in the relationship between SLA and materials development.

Peer Interaction and Second Language Learning Masatoshi Sato, Susan Ballinger, 2016-03-10. This volume represents the first collection of empirical studies focusing on peer interaction for L2 learning. These studies aim to unveil the impact of mediating variables such as task type, mode of interaction, and social relationships on learners' interactional behaviors and language development in this unique and pedagogically powerful learning context. To examine these issues, contributors employed quantitative, qualitative, and mixed methods designs, as well as cognitive, social, and sociocognitive theoretical frameworks. The majority of the studies are classroom based and were conducted in a rich array of settings covering five continents and encompassing a wide range of learner L1s and target languages. These settings include second and foreign language classrooms from primary to university level, content based programs, online contexts, and after school programs. To span the divide between research and practice, each study includes a section suggesting pedagogical implications.
