O'Hern, Yoshiko Nozaki, 2014-05-05 Through a multi sited qualitative study of three Kenyan secondary schools in rural Taita Hills and urban Nairobi the volume explores the ways the dichotomy between Western and indigenous knowledge operates in Kenyan education In particular it examines views on natural sciences expressed by the students teachers the state s curricula documents and schools exam oriented pedagogical approaches O Hern and Nozaki question state and local education policies and practices as they relate to natural science subjects such as agriculture biology and geography and their dismissal of indigenous knowledge about environment nature and sustainable development They suggest the need to develop critical postcolonial curriculum policies and practices of science education to overcome knowledge oriented binaries
