The Globalization of Eastern Europe Klaus Segbers, Kerstin Imbusch, 2000 Globalization and fragmentation weakly controlled flows of information and knowledge increasing cleavages in societies undergoing rapid change flows of migrants services and capital bypassing the control of national governments life styles and consumption patterns produced by electronic media and advertising all these developments already have a significant impact on post Soviet regions And all kind of actors decision makers journalists experts students perceive the environment beyond their respective national borders increasingly as the playground they have to take into account and as a framework for action The chapters in this volume are produced by experts in the so called transformation countries in Eastern Europe They address various questions on inter and transnational relations thereby offering a framework for reflection and for analysis of macro trends around policy fields relevant for the countries in Central and Eastern Europe The product certainly mirrors the specific environment of researchers teachers and students in these countries At the same time it reflects a process of intensive discussion on the state of IR literature worldwide Furthermore this book demonstrates how useful teaching tools for universities and institutes not only in Eastern and Central Europe can be produced

The Globalization of World Politics Anne Cullen, 2011 Now in its fifth edition this title has been fully revised and updated in the light of recent developments in world politics with new chapters on the changing nature of war human security and international ethics      Political Islam, World Politics and Europe Bassam Tibi, 2014-07-11 The new and updated edition of Political Islam World Politics and Europe focusses on the shift within political Islam in light of 9 11 and the events of the Arab Spring from a jihadist struggle to institutional Islamism Refuting what has often been referred to by commentators as the moderation of Islamism the second edition of this book introduces the concept of institutional Islamism a process which Tibi argues was accelerated in the aftermath of the Arab Spring Both jihadist and institutional Islamism pursue the same goal of an Islamist state but disagree fundamentally on the strategy for achieving it Whilst jihadism is committed to the idea of a violent Islamic world revolution institutional Islamism embraces political institutions as a means to an end Turning to the events of the Arab Spring in Tunisia Libya and Egypt this book attempts to determine whether an abandonment of violence is enough to underpin a shift to genuine democracy Analysing the fall of Morsi in particular Tibi questions what lessons can be learnt from his presidency and argues that this event will not change the overall trend of development from jihadism to institutional Islamism A timely addition to existing literature this book will be of interest to students and scholars studying Middle Eastern and European Politics Political Islam and International Relations      The George Washington International Law Review ,2003      The Internet and Its Role in Global Politics Simon Plaickner, 2010-03 Seminar paper from the year 2009 in the subject Politics Political Theory and the History of Ideas Journal grade 20 20 Free University of Bozen Bolzano course Theory of International politics language English abstract This paper wants to emphasize the relevance of new information and communication channels created by Internet technology for shaping the international relations landscape As method it will approach the argument comparing and connecting the notions of Globalization and Glocalization as well as of Hegemony and Counter Hegemony and analyze these frameworks in context to Internet information flows Furthermore to complete the argument it will be discussed if and how national and transnational nongovernmental players gain global visibility and importance through using Internet information technologies      Global Political Economy Theodore H. Cohn, 2008 Praised for its authoritative coverage of theory and history Global Political Economy places the study of IPE in the broadest global context Written by one of the field's leading scholars this text helps students understand the fundamental importance of international political economy and make sense of current events in the global economy Its three areas of focus globalization North North relations and North South relations encourage students to connect theory and history with practice explore domestic and international economic interactions and examine the critical relationship between economic and security issues      Making the World Global Isaac A. Kamola, 2019-06-07 Following World War II the American government and philanthropic foundations fundamentally remade American universities into sites for producing knowledge about the world as a collection of distinct nation states As neoliberal reforms took hold in the 1980s visions of the world made popular within area studies and international studies found themselves challenged by ideas and educational policies that originated in business schools and international financial institutions Academics within these institutions reimagined the world instead as a single global market and higher education as a commodity to be bought and sold By the 1990s American universities embraced this language of globalization and globalization eventually became the organizing logic of higher education In Making the World Global Isaac A Kamola examines how the relationships among universities the American state philanthropic organizations and international financial institutions created the conditions that made it possible to imagine the world as global Examining the Center for International Studies Harvard Business School the World Bank the Social Science Research Council and NYU Kamola demonstrates that how we imagine the world is always symptomatic of the material relations within which knowledge is produced Global Political Economy John Ravenhill,2005 Brings together leading international experts to provide an authoritative introduction to the major subject areas on undergraduate courses in global political economy Each chapter makes use of learning aids such as summary boxes chronologies case studies web links and further reading
