Education Sector Wide Approaches is part of a global effort to accelerate the sector's response to HIV/AIDS particularly in Africa and reflects the increasing recognition of the role that education has to play in the national response to HIV. A good education is now recognized as making a crucial contribution to reducing stigma and discrimination and to helping young people avoid infection. School age children have the lowest prevalence of infection and even in the worst affected countries the vast majority of schoolchildren remain uninfected. For these children there is a window of hope, a chance of a life free from HIV if they can acquire the knowledge, skills and values to help protect themselves as they grow up. Providing young people with the social vaccine of education offers them a real chance of a productive life. Sector wide school based programs have the potential to interact with large numbers of children and youth and offer a ready made infrastructure for offering cost effective HIV/AIDS education at population scale. This new volume was produced in response to requests from educators for programmatic examples of education sector wide approaches. With lessons that are replicable and scalable this new analysis of 10 HIV/AIDS prevention programs from 6 Sub-Saharan African countries as well as the Dominican Republic and Israel fills an important gap in programming expertise in the education sector.
