Pdf The Archaeology Of Medieval Binding:

The Archaeology of Medieval Bookbinding J. A. Szirmai, 1999 An expanded version of a series of lectures supplemented with the results of ten years of intensive research in major libraries on the Continent the United Kingdom and the USA this major volume surveys the evolution of binding structures from the introduction of the codex two thousand years ago to the close of the Middle Ages

Conservation of Books Abigail Bainbridge, 2023-03-27 Conservation of Books is the highly anticipated reference work on global book structures and their conservation offering the first modern comprehensive overview on this subject The volume takes an international approach to its subject Written by over 70 specialists in conservation and conservation science based in 19 countries its 26 chapters cover traditional book structures from around the world the materials from which they are made and how they degrade and how to preserve and conserve them It also examines the theoretical underpinnings of conservation what and how to treat and the ethical cultural and economic implications of treatment Technical drawings and photographs illustrate the structures and treatments examined throughout the book Ultimately readers gain an in depth understanding of the materiality of books in numerous global contexts and reflect on the practical considerations involved in their analysis and treatment Conservation of Books is a quintessential reference work for book conservators and anyone working with books such as collection managers librarians curators dealers collectors historians and related professionals It is also an indispensable text for students to complement hands on training in this field

Touching, Devotional Practices, and Visionary Experience in the Late Middle Ages David Carrillo-Rangel, Delfi I. Nieto-Isabel, Pablo Acosta-García, 2019-12-16 This book addresses the history of the senses in relation to affective piety and its role in devotional practices in the late Middle Ages focusing on the sense of touch It argues that only by deeply analysing this specific context of perception can the full significance of sensory religious experience in the Late Middle Ages be understood Considering the centrality of the body to medieval society and Christianity this collection explores a range of devotional practices mainly relating to the Passion of Christ and features manuscripts works of devotional literature art woodcuts and judicial records It brings together a multidisciplinary group of scholars to offer a variety of methodological approaches in order to understand how touch was encoded evoked and purposefully used The book further considers how touch was related to the medieval theory of perception examining its relation to the inner and outer senses through the eyes of visionaries mystics theologians and confessors not only as praxis but from different theoretical points of view While considered the most basic of spiritual experience the chapters in this book highlight the all pervasive presence of touch and the significance of affective piety to Late Medieval Christians Chapter 3 Drama Performance and Touch in the Medieval Convent and Beyond is Open Access under a CC BY 4.0 license at link.springer.com

Binding and the Archeology of the Medieval and Renaissance Book Sandra Hindman,2014      Slavery and Servile Societies in Korean History Reinhard Zöllner,2025-10-20 This study examines the long overlooked institution of slavery in Korea challenging its erasure from historical narratives and reassessing its role within the country's socio-political structure. It explores how slavery, deeply embedded in a lineage-based aristocracy, functioned not only as an economic driver but also as a hereditary status system that reinforced elite dominance and self-preservation. Using the concept of servile society, a society in which strong asymmetrical dependency is linked to hereditary social status in law and custom, the book examines how hereditary dependency shaped elite power, governance, and social hierarchies over centuries. The study combines political and legal history, social structures, and ideological frameworks to present the latest research on slavery in ancient Korea. It examines how slaves were constructed as a special species in the Korean Middle Ages, analyzes the role of slavery in the yangban-dominated society of the early modern period based on political, intellectual discourses, and statistical data, and tracks the expansion of slavery discourses in Japanese and Western reception after c. 1800 based on texts and photographs, and examines the aftermath of slavery in the present.

Linguistic Communities and Migratory Processes Karen P. Corrigan,2020-09-07 This interdisciplinary book is the first in an Irish context to address issues connected with the super-diversifying of language and society engendered by recent and historical migrations. It analyses novel data from interviews with allochthonous and autochthonous groups of monolingual and plurilingual youngsters living in Northern Ireland. A key aim is to test models within second language acquisition and language variation and change research. Another goal is to examine the extent to which distinctive migratory trends generated changes in the language ecologies of communities on the island of Ireland as well as globally in regions where the Irish settled intensively from the 1700s. The book also compares contemporary migratory experiences with historical records to further our understanding of the dynamics of identification through language across time. The first ever book devoted to all aspects of the sociolinguistics of globalization and migration in Northern Ireland will be welcomed by scholars interested in the consequences for ethnolinguistic vitality of large-scale population movements. It could not be more timely given the fact that 2.5 million sought asylum in Europe alone during 2016, greatly enhancing its diversity.

Binding and the Archeology of the Medieval and Renaissance Book Sandra Louise Hindman, Ariane Bergeron-Foote,2010      J.A. Szirmai. The Archaeology of Medieval Bookbinding. Aldershot: Aldgate, 1999. ISBN 0859679047. [Review]. Rowan Watson,2000      Bauten in Bewegung ,2007      Binding Structures in the Middle Ages Berthe van Regemorter,1992 Berthe van Regemorter learned the craft of bookbinding in Brussels before joining the workshop of the famous British bookbinders Sangorsky and Sutcliffe. In 1923 she entered the Vrije Akademie in Antwerp as an instructor. A turning point in her career was Henry van de Velde's request to become a lecturer in his newly founded school of visual and decorative arts, La Cambre. But perhaps more important still is the fundamental role that Van Regemorter played in the development of the field, bookbinding archeology. Thanks to her, the current popularity of this research results in the annual publication of several essays and articles She also led the way in establishing a methodological structural analysis of bookbindings This volume presents all the work of Berthe van Regemorter commented and translated into English by Jane Greenfield The following topics are treated the structure of the binding from the origins of the codex through Coptic Armenian Byzantine Oriental and European bindings until the late Middle Ages
