|                |  |
|----------------|--|
| Allusion       | A reference to another text, work of art, historical figure, mythical figure, or idea. Artists use allusions to develop meaning by signalling a connection to/awareness of other ideas.  |
| Angle          | The angle used to compose the image. Imagine that the painting or image has been taken using an imaginary camera; angles then refers to the tilt of this imagined camera in relation to the scene and characters in the image.   |
| Body language  | Facial expressions, gestures, stance or position - can convey the attitude, feelings or personality of the individual shown.   |
| Composition    | What is included is deliberately placed (also applies to what is omitted). Consider all inclusions and omissions e.g. surroundings, objects, clothing etc.   |
| Colour and hue | In black & white images examine the use of contrast, light and darkness. In a colour image, colours are used to signify feelings and evoke a response.   |
| Contrast       | The arrangement of opposite or differing elements (light and dark, large and small, rough and smooth) to create interest, excitement or drama.   |
| Depth          | Depth refers to the three-dimensional aspect of an image. Composers use depth to create a sense of scale or proportion. They also use depth to illustrate the proximity between objects.   |
| Framing        | The same camera shots and angles relevant to film. For example: Close-ups, Extreme close-ups, Medium shots, Long shots, Tilted up or down shots, etc.  |
| Gaze           | The way a character looks with their eyes and face. Gaze is a useful way to convey meaning through an image because we can see where and how a figure is looking at something.Intra-diegetic: The character is looking at something within the textExtra-diegetic: The character is looking at something outside of the textIn some instances, the subject may be looking directly at the viewer. This is called a demand gaze or direct gaze (vice versa indirect gaze) |
| Line           | This describes the types of line used in an image and the effect they have on the viewers understanding of the image. There are meanings associated with different types of lines:   |

Poets and the Visual Arts in Renaissance England Norman K. Farmer, 2014-08-19 In the twentieth century the pioneering work of such art historians as Erwin Panofsky and Edgar Wind heightened our awareness of the relationship between Renaissance literature and the visual arts By focusing on that relationship in the work of such poets as Sir Philip Sidney John Donne Richard Crashaw Edmund Waller and Robert Herrick Norman K Farmer Jr convincingly shows that they and other writers of the late sixteenth and early seventeenth centuries in England wrote with a lively and creative sense of the visual a sense richly informed by the theory and practice of Renaissance art Farmer begins by describing the powerful visual matrix that underlies the narrative structure of Sidney's New Arcadia He compares the role of the visual in the poetry of Donne and Ben Jonson and demonstrates how works by both Thomas Carew and Lord Herbert exhibit poetic invention according to familiar Renaissance pictorial themes Herrick's Hesperides is shown to be the major seventeenth century poetic application of the Horatian idea ut pictura poesis A special feature of this gracefully written and enlightening volume is Farmer's discussion of Lady Drury's oratory at Hawstead Hall Published here for the first time are photographs of this uniquely decorated oratory in which themes from a variety of English and Continental emblem books were painted on the walls of a room apparently designed for private meditation
