- Consumable activities are the ones that will reduce the nation's income. They produce a net outflow of resources.
- These activities are divided into:
 - Primary sector: It includes activities like agriculture, fishing, hunting etc.
 - Secondary Sector: It includes manufacturing and extraction.
 - Tertiary sector: It includes activities like transport, servicing, trading etc.
- All consumable activities are profitable due to the fact that they make contributions to consumption savings. However, society might not offer savings to individuals. Activities which give income as compensation to people who produce them are known as Market activities. Services may be sold through the form of pay, salary/wages or profit. Government activities, production of goods for sale, and non-market performance therapy. These market activities do not provide the individual an income. They are done for self-consumption. The income, if given, resulting a lower output than the demand, a lower pricing range or both these factors.
- The non-market activities done by members are not paid. Hence are included as national income. However, if this activity, like cooking, is performed for someone then it can be included.
- Education and skills of a person determines how he can work, as skilled people can perform better work than a person without any skills. However, generally there are skills and their education that is not sold or paid for wages.
