Issues In Islamic Law:

Modern Challenges to Islamic Law Shaheen Sardar Ali, 2016-10-06 This book offers unique insights into Islamic law considering its theoretical perspectives alongside its practical application in daily Muslim life Islamic Law and the Challenges of Modernity Yvonne Yazbeck Haddad, Barbara Freyer Stowasser, 2004-03-27 Since Europeans first colonized Arab lands in the 19th century they have been pressing to have the area's indigenous laws and legal systems accord with Western models. Although most Arab states now have national codes of law that reflect Western influence, fierce internal struggles continue over how to interpret Islamic law, particularly in the areas of gender and family. From different geographical and ideological points across the contemporary Arab world, Haddad and Stowasser demonstrate the range of views on just what Islam's legal heritage in the region should be. For either law or religion classes, Islamic Law and the Challenges of Modernity provides the broad historical overview and particular cases needed to understand this contentious issue. Contemporary Issues in Islamic Law, Economics and Finance Flavia Cortelezzi, Alessandro Ferrari, 2022-08-12 This book explores how Islam can impact the structures and performance of firms, financial institutions, and capital markets across a range of countries and industries. The Islamic finance industry represents an important reality not only because of the oil wealth of the Gulf states, which have fueled demand for such financial services, but also for an increased demand from a growing Muslim population in the West that aspires to express a full and all-inclusive religious identity. The increased demand for Muslim financial institutions has prompted Western non-Islamic firms to begin providing these services in an interesting effort of acculturation to the new plural scenario. By adopting a multidisciplinary approach which also takes into account the theological, legal, and geopolitical framework, the book offers a comprehensive picture of Islamic financial tools, contracts, and business opportunities. Drawing on different fields of expertise, it deals with various themes such as the theological roots of Islamic economics and finance and its geopolitical impact, the EU policy of cooperation with MENA and GCC countries, the instruments of Islamic finance, its legal principle, and ability to become an instrument for enhancing business opportunities, the functioning of Islamic banks, the development of capital markets within a financial model influenced by religious constraints, and finally, the new relationships of this religious financial system with Western legal systems. The book thus provides a complete and extensive overview of the practice of Islamic finance through the lenses offered by studies of economics and management. Providing a careful analysis and an integrated framework of geo-economic and political issues, the book will be a valuable resource for academics, researchers, and professionals in International Business, Entrepreneurship, and Small Business Management, Law and Religion, and Intercultural Studies. Issues in Islamic Law Mashood A. Baderin, 2017-07-05 Islamic substantive law, otherwise called branches of the law (furu al fiqh), covers the textual provisions and jurisprudential rulings relating to specific transactions under Islamic law. It is to Islamic substantive law that the rules of Islamic legal theory are applied. The relationship between Islamic legal theory and Islamic substantive law is metaphorically described by Islamic jurists as a process of cultivation istithmar whereby the qualified jurist mujtahid as the cultivator uses relevant rules of legal theory to harvest the substantive law on specific issues in form of fruits thamarat from the sources. The articles in this volume engage critically with selected substantive issues in Islamic law including family law, law of inheritance, law of financial transactions, criminal law, judicial procedure and international law al siyar. These areas of substantive law have been selected due to their contemporary relevance and application in different parts of the Muslim world today. The volume features an introductory overview of the subject as well as a comprehensive bibliography to aid further research.

The Objectives of Islamic Law Rume Ahmed, Idris Nassery, Muna Tatari, 2020-07-06. Scholars, thinkers and activists around the world are paying increasing attention to a legal reform method that promises to revolutionize the way people think about Islamic law. Known as The Objectives of the Shari'a (Maqā'id al-Shari'a), the theory offers a way to derive and apply new Islamic laws using an ancient methodology. The theory identifies core objectives that underlie Islamic law and then looks at inherited Islamic laws to see whether they meet those objectives. According to the Maqā'id theory, historical Islamic laws that meet their objectives should be retained, and those that do not, no matter how entrenched in practice or embedded in texts, should be discarded or reformed. Recently, several scholars have questioned the Maqā'id theory, arguing that it is designed not to reform laws but to support existing power structures. They warn that adopting the Maqā'id wholesale would set the reform project back, ensuring that inherited Islamic laws are never fully reformed to agree with contemporary values like gender egalitarianism and universal human rights. The Objectives of Islamic Law: The Promises and Challenges of the Maqā'id al-Shari'a captures the ongoing debate between proponents and skeptics of the Maqā'id theory. It raises some of the most important issues in Islamic legal debates today and lays out visions for the future of Islamic law.

Islamic Law in Malaysia Adnan Trakic, Hanifah Haydar Ali Tajuddin, 2021-03-16. This book examines the challenges of the implementation of Islamic law in Malaysia. Malaysia is a pertinent jurisdiction to explore such challenges given its global focus, colonial history and institutions, and the intersection of the Shari'ah and secularism, multiculturalism. The resultant implementation challenges are underpinned by three factors that make Malaysia an important jurisdiction for those interested in understanding the place of Islamic law in the global context. First, Malaysia is often considered as a model Islamic country. Islamic law is a source of law in Malaysia. The Islamic law legal system in Malaysia operates in parallel with a common law legal system. The two systems of law generally are in harmony with one another. Nevertheless, occasional cross-jurisdictional issues do arise, and when they do, the Malaysian judiciary has been quite efficient in solving them. The Malaysian experience in maintaining such harmony between the two legal systems provides lessons for a number of countries facing such challenges. Second, Malaysia has a developed Shari'ah court system that interprets and applies Islamic law predominantly based on the Shafi'i school of thought. While for the most part the approach has been successful, there have been times when the implementation of the law has raised concerns as to the compatibility of Islamic law with modern principles of human rights and common law based values Third there have been cases where Islamic law implementation in Malaysia has gained global attention due to the potential for wider international implications To do justice to this complex area the book calls on scholars and practitioners who have the necessary expertise in Islamic law and its implementation As such this book provides lessons and direction for other countries that operate a dual system of secular and Islamic laws
