alongside extreme right accelerationism in a wider Australian political context characterised by reactionary fossil fuel politics and neoliberal New Right climate change agendas The authors scrutinise the manipulation of environmental politics by contemporary Australian far and extreme right actors in cross national online media They also assess the political ideological context of the contemporary far right addressing intergovernmental approaches to security threats connected to the far right and climate change and the emergence of radical environmentalist traditions in New Catastrophism literature The conclusion synthesises key insights analysing the mainstreaming of ethnonationalist and authoritarian responses to global heating and potential future trajectories of far right movements exploiting the climate crisis It also emphasises the necessity for radical political alternatives to counter the far right s exploitation of climate change This book will be of interest to researchers of climate change the far right neoliberal capitalism extremism and Australian politics
