Leadership for Differentiating Schools and Classrooms Carol Ann Tomlinson, Susan Demirsky Allan, 2000-12-15 Try going a week without hearing a call for a massive overhaul of our educational system Parents students educators bureaucrats pundits everyone says something must be done But what And who should do it In this environment school leaders must build bridges for change As the system now stands many students spend great portions of their lives feeling inferior if they struggle invisible if they already know the material problematic if they re not a child of the dominant culture and perverse if they question the school agenda This book explores how school leaders can develop responsive personalized and differentiated classrooms Differentiation is simply a teacher attending to the learning needs of a particular student or small group of students rather than teaching a class as though all individuals in it were basically alike Expert educators teach individuals the most important things in the most effective ways No single approach works with all students Classrooms function best when teachers and students join to develop multiple avenues to learning Until every student is growing and successful our own growth is unfinished The authors show how school leaders can encourage and support growth in our classrooms
