Levene Bowls:

Aramaic Incantation Bowls in Museum Collections James Nathan Ford, Matthew Morgenstern, 2019-11-04 The Frau Professor Hilprecht Collection of Babylonian Antiquities at Friedrich Schiller University Jena houses one of the major European collections of incantation bowls. Forty bowls bear texts written in the Jewish, Manichaean, Syriac or Mandaic scripts and most of the rest, some twenty-five objects, in the Pahlavi script or in various pseudoscripts. The present volume comprises new editions of the Aramaic and Hebrew bowl texts based on high-resolution photographs taken by the authors together with brief descriptions and photographs of the remaining material. New readings are often supported with close-up photographs. The volume is intended to serve as a basis for further study of magic in late antiquity and of the Late Eastern Aramaic dialects in which the texts were composed.

Aramaic Incantation Bowls in Their Late Antique Jewish Contexts Alexander W. Marcus, Jason Sion Mokhtarian, 2025-08-29 Outside of the Babylonian Talmud, the Aramaic incantation bowls inscribed with elaborate magical texts are the only major extant written corpus produced by Jews during the late Sasanian and early Islamic periods (ca. 500-700 CE). Contributors: Siam Bhayro, Anne Burberry, Shira Eliassian, James Nathan Ford, Tal Ilan, Reuven Kiperwasser, Dan Levene, Alexander W. Marcus, Jason Sion Mokhtarian, Ortal Paz, Saar Harriet Walker, and Daniel J. Waller approach the amulets through a variety of methodological approaches, including social history, gender studies, linguistics, and digital humanities. The volume includes an up-to-date survey, introductory essay, map of known excavation sites, and bibliographical resources for the vast and diffuse corpus of Aramaic incantation bowls that served a number of purposes, including warding off evil spirits and diseases, overturning curses from human adversaries, and achieving success in court cases, childbirth, or livelihood. The fascinating artifacts presented here transform our understanding of Jewish culture, interreligious interactions, and the varieties of Jewish identity and religion that existed during this formative era.

The Bloomsbury Handbook of Material Religion in the Ancient Near East and Egypt Nicola Laneri, Sharon R. Steadman, 2023-06-29 With contributions spanning from the Neolithic Age to the Iron Age, this book offers important insights into the religions and ritual practices in ancient Egyptian and Near Eastern communities through the lenses of their material remains. The book begins with a theoretical introduction to the concept of material religion and features editor introductions to each of its six parts, which tackle the following themes: the human body, religious architecture, the written word, sacred images, the spirituality of animals, and the sacred role of the landscape. Illustrated with over 100 images, chapters provide insight into every element of religion and materiality, from the largest building to the smallest amulet. This is a benchmark work for further studies on material religion in the ancient Near East and Egypt.
