Sigmund Freud's "The Uncanny" in Alfred Hitchcock's "Psycho" and Darren Aronofsky's "Black Swan"

Benjamin Halking,2022-10-12 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2016 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Other grade 1 7 University of Cologne language English abstract This paper will revolve around Sigmund Freud s The Uncanny and the momentum of suspense it can cause Furthermore an interview of Alfred Hitchcock will be looked at in excerpts where he discusses the momentum of suspense Subsequently the theory of The Uncanny will be applied to Alfred

Hitchcock's 1960 movie Psycho and later to Darren Aronofsky's 2010 movie Black Swan Psycho sets an example of the suspense and is inevitably connected to the name of Alfred Hitchcock Why is Psycho the embodiment of suspense and the uncanny Opposed to Hitchcock's masterpiece the 2010 movie Black Swan will be looked at in terms of the uncanny As this movie is considered to be an uncanny representation of light and color it is supposed to form the counterpart to Hitchcock's Psycho in terms of uncanny elements and the idea of suspense These seemingly very diverse genres the titles themselves give off different expectations already shall be examined regarding the use of uncanny elements It will be analyzed how these elements are used and what the degree and frequency of the uncanny does to both the movie and the viewer This paper aims to correlate the amount the frequency and the intensity of uncanny elements with the suspense that is built throughout both of the movies Does the amount of uncanny do any harm to the idea of suspense Is this idea following the principle of the more the better or rather less is more The current status of research on this very matter is very scarce Aside from the interview of Truffaut with Alfred Hitchcock himself there appears to be no hard evidence that this matter has been dealt with Only Hitchcock goes into this topic and explains what he fathoms by suspense and how to build it through uncanny elements
