control through building design Heating Cooling and Lighting is the industry standard text on environmental control systems with the emphasis on sustainable design By detailing the many factors that contribute to the comfort in a building this book helps architects minimize mechanical systems and energy usage over the life of the building by siting building design and landscaping to maximize natural heating cooling and lighting This new fourth edition includes new information on integrated design strategies and designing for the Tropics Resources include helpful case studies checklists diagrams and a companion website featuring additional cases an image bank and instructor materials Designing buildings that require less energy to heat cool and light means allowing the natural energy of the sun and wind to reduce the burden on the mechanical and electrical systems Basic design decisions regarding size orientation and form have a great impact on the sustainability cost and comfort of a building Heating Cooling and Lighting provides detailed guidance for each phase of a design project Readers will Understand the concept of sustainability as applied to energy sources Review the basic principles of thermal comfort and the critical role of climate Learn the fundamentals of solar responsive design including active and passive solar systems as well as photovoltaics Discover how siting architectural design and landscaping can reduce the requirements for mechanical and electrical systems In sustainable design mechanical and electrical systems should be used to only accomplish what the architect could not by the design of the building itself With this in mind designers require a comprehensive understanding of both the properties of energy and the human factors involved in thermal comfort Heating Cooling and Lighting is the complete industry leading resource for designers interested in sustainable environmental control

Architecture's Model Environments Lisa Moffitt, 2023-02-20 Seen through the distilling lens of the architectural model Architecture's Model Environments is a novel and far reaching exploration of the many dialogues buildings have with their environmental surroundings Expanding on histories of building technology the book sheds new light on how physical models conventionally understood as engineering experimentation devices enable architectural design speculation The book begins with a catalogue of ten original model prototypes of wind tunnels water tables and filling boxes and is the first of its kind to establish an architectural approach to fabricating such environmental models Subsequent chapters feature three precedent models that have been largely overlooked within the wider oeuvres of their authors French polymath tienne Jules Marey s 1900 2 wind tunnels Hungarian American architects Victor and Alad r Olgyay s 1955 63 thermoheliodon and Scottish chemist and building ventilation expert David Boswell The Ventilator Reid s 1844 test tube convection experiments Moving between historic moments and the present day between case studies and original prototypes the book reveals the potent ability for models as both physical artefacts and mental ideals to reflect prevailing cultural views about the world and to even reshape those views Fundamentally Architecture's Model Environments illustrates how environmental models reveal design insights across scales from the seam that leaks to the body that feels to the building that mediates to the world that immerses
