Developing Intercultural Language Learning Michelle Kohler, 2020-11-09 This book presents a detailed account of a self study in which the author considers why a developmental perspective matters in language learning within an intercultural orientation and how teachers of languages might understand and attend to this notion in their work The discussion is based on the author's experience as a teacher researcher and traces aspects of teachers work from planning teaching and mediating to assessing and judging evidence of student learning and development over time This book is grounded in a praxis view of language teaching and learning and will be of interest to other language teachers pre service teachers teacher trainers and applied linguists

Intercultural Language Use and Language Learning Eva Alcon Soler, Maria Pilar Safont Jorda, 2007-05-24 Eva Alcon Soler Maria Pilar Safont Jord Universitat Jaume I Spain The main purpose of the present book is to broaden the scope of research on the development of intercultural communicative competence Bearing this purpose in mind English learners are considered as intercultural speakers who share their interest for engaging in real life communication According to Byram and Fleming 1998 the intercultural speaker is someone with knowledge of one or more cultures and social identities and who enjoys discovering and maintaining relationships with people from other cultural backgrounds although s he has not been formally trained for that purpose Besides possessing knowledge of at least two cultures is the case of many learners in bilingual or multilingual communities In these contexts the objective of language learning should then focus on developing intercultural competence which in turn may involve promoting language diversity while encouraging English as both a means and an end of instruction see Alcon in this volume This is the idea underlying the volume which further sustains Kramsch's argument 1998 against the native non native dichotomy Following that author we also believe that in a multilingual world where learners may belong to more than one speech community their main goal is not to become a native speaker of English but to use this language as a tool for interaction among many other languages and cultures

Developing Intercultural Competence in Practice Michael Byram, Adam Nichols, David Stevens, 2001-07-25 It is now widely recognised that learning a language should not just involve linguistic competence but also intercultural competence It is also clear that intercultural competence can be developed through related subjects such as geography history mother tongue teaching This book takes this as a given and provides practical help for teachers who wish to help their learners acquire intercultural competence in the ordinary classroom It contains descriptions of lessons and materials from a wide range of classrooms in several countries and for beginners to advanced learners

Intercultural Communicative Competence in Educational Exchange Alvino E. Fantini, 2018-07-17 This book explores the nature of intercultural communicative competence ICC a set of abilities required to promote sojourner engagement with diversity during study abroad and other educational exchange experiences A highly original contribution to the intercultural communication literature this book bases its multinational perspective of ICC on an extensive literary search in six languages and spanning 50 years to identify ICC's multiple components to develop a comprehensive assessment tool and to assess its development and impact on exchange participants in multiple countries

Teaching Intercultural Competence Across the Age Range Manuela Wagner, Dorie Conlon Perugini, Michael Byram, 2017-10-19 This ground breaking book is the first to describe in detail how teachers supported by university educators and education advisers might plan and implement innovative ideas based on sound theoretical foundations Focusing on the teaching and learning of intercultural communicative competence in foreign language classrooms in the USA the authors describe a collaborative project in which graduate students and teachers planned implemented and reported on units which integrated intercultural competence in a systematic way in classrooms ranging from elementary to university level The authors are clear and honest about what worked and what didn't both in their classrooms and during the process of collaboration This book will be required reading for both scholars and teachers interested in applying academic theory in the classroom and in the teaching of intercultural competence Intercultural Communicative Competence in English

Language Teaching in Polish State Colleges Piotr Romanowski, 2017-05-11 This volume provides a strong theoretical introduction to the field of intercultural communication offering practical examples of classroom activities as well as presenting empirical research which demonstrates that intercultural communicative competence ICC can be developed effectively in specially tailored courses adjusted to the needs of learners It presents a novel model of intercultural sensitivity assessment and outlines the results of research into intercultural communicative competence conducted among the students of English Language Studies in state colleges in Poland The cultural component in developing ICC as an extra linguistic determinant is assigned particular prominence in the book A thorough analysis of the empirical material collected from participant observation the administered questionnaires and interviews allowed the most common values and attitudes held as components of intercultural sensitivity to be identified The obtained findings are subsequently analyzed to predict the potential areas of communication misunderstandings and failures between Polish learners of English and representatives of other cultures

Teaching Intercultural Communicative Competence with a Textbook Irina Maric, 2012-11-22 Seminar paper from the year 2011 in the subject Didactics for the subject English Pedagogy Literature Studies grade 13 00 Punkte Justus Liebig University Giessen Institut für Anglistik course Developing Intercultural Communicative Competence in the EFL Classroom language English abstract Although intercultural concepts tend to essentialism and reductionism and thus run the risk of constructing artificial ethnic differences and stereotypes the existing models are quite useful for teaching purposes as well as for the purpose of this paper which is to analyse a textbook for German high school in order to find out more about its potential to help develop ICC In my view using both terms interchangeably is acceptable as long as one considers culture to be a dynamic negotiable phenomenon cf Freitag 2008 Regarding the actual teaching I agree with Hu 2009 that intercultural concepts in spite of their deficits cannot and should not be replaced immediately but gradually with the narrative constructive concepts of intercultural learning in mind The national KMK Bildungsstandards 2010 12f set rather high standards for ICC emphasising the role of literature and diversity of texts in developing ICC Landeskunde should be taught as well but not only to impart fact knowledge but to enable students to communicate in real intercultural situations Generally speaking the task of a teacher is to prepare his students for the challenges of future life and they are definitely going to take place in a globalized inter or transcultural world According to the White Paper on Intercultural Learning by the Council of Europe in a democracy we do not only have the opportunity but the duty to act as active responsible reflective and self critical citizens respectful of others and to help build a peaceful democratic world 2008 29 I think that helping students to achieve this aim is best done by enhancing their discourse ability more in chapter 2 1 Since the most common way of teaching EFL in Germany is by using a textbook cf Kurtz 2010 this paper will try to find out how well this can be done in regard to developing ICC based on the realities of the FL classroom In order to do so first of all we have to clarify the basic theoretical concepts which are needed to understand the idea of intercultural communication and consequently the competences which are required for the successful accomplishment of that interactive task In a second step I will conduct a small qualitative research exploring and evaluating both the theoretical ICC learning models and the textbook New Context
