Swords in the Mist Fritz Leiber, 2014-04-01 Fafhrd and the Gray Mouser take to the sea in the third installment of this seminal sword and sorcery series that has lost none of its luminous magic San Francisco Chronicle Swords in the Mist book three in the Lankhmar series thrusts our indentured sword swinging servants into the question of hate its power and its purpose Times are lean in Lankhmar illuminating the link between money and love Luckily Fafhrd and the Gray Mouser don t always believe in love When Lankhmar gets too gritty our travelers take to their other less harsh mistress the sea But the sea can play tricks on men and so can the sea king He can break a man or worse yet curse him But when he is away it s all play for the formidable swordsmen and the Triple Goddess and two luscious sea queens But luck may not always be there as they discover on the way to see Ningauble their wizard employer After a long journey in defense of their control over their own fates Fafhrd and the Gray Mouser find themselves pawns in a life and death chess game all of Lankhmar being the pieces How many pawns will be left on the board before someone wins Before The Lord of the Rings took the world by storm Leiber's fantastic but thoroughly flawed antiheroes Fafhrd and Gray Mouser adventured deep within the caves of Inner Earth albeit a different one They wondered and wandered to the edges of the Outer Sea across the Land of Nehwon and throughout every nook and cranny of gothic Lankhmar Nehwon's grandest and most mystically corrupt city Lankhmar is Leiber's fully realized vivid incarnation of urban decay and civilization's corroding effect on the human psyche Drawing on themes from Shakespeare Edgar Allan Poe and H P Lovecraft master manipulator Fritz Leiber is a worldwide legend within the fantasy genre and actually coined the term Sword and Sorcery that describes the subgenre he helped create Sea Frontiers, 1966 Twelve Centuries of English Poetry and Prose, 1910 British Naval Swords and Swordsmanship Mark Barton, John McGrath, 2013-07-03 This new publication is intended to bring together a mass of research dealing with all aspects of British naval swords Unlike the much sought after Swords of Sea Service by May and Annis this work offers a far broader coverage and for the first time the complete story of swords and swordsmanship is presented in one concise volume While the swords themselves are described the authors also tell the story of naval swordsmanship For example subjects such as how swords and cutlasses were used in action and how training was conducted and covered The authors also address how the use of swords developed into a sport in the Navy and how swords and swordsmanship may have entered naval symbology in such areas as ships names Many current myths are addressed and corrected and the story is brought right up to date with information on the sport from 1948 to 2000 While the book concentrates on the Royal Navy foreign weapons including those of the Irish Naval Service are mentioned where appropriate Other British Maritime organisations such as the Merchant Navy the Customs and Coastguard Services and the Reserves are also addressed The book also covers subjects such as dating collecting and conservation of swords and re-examines those swords attributed to Nelson The Appendices include the first list of Swords of Peace awarded to naval units to be published Recent research by the authors is also reflected in the updated lists of Patriotic Fund Awards City of London Swords and Naval fencing champions contained in the Appendices The comprehensive nature of the work has not been attempted before and the book will appeal to a wide range of naval enthusiasts and historians collectors of weapons fencers and re-enactors

Archaeology of the Ionian Sea Christina Souyouzoglou-Haywood, Christina Papoulia, 2021-12-22 Presents a thematic collection of papers dealing with the Stone Age and Bronze Age archaeology of the Ionian Sea situated off the south western Balkan peninsula It is based on an international conference held in Athens Greece in January 2020 The eastern Ionian occupies a geographically complex area which since the Pleistocene has undergone significant alterations due to tectonic activity and sea level fluctuations This dynamic environment where islands mainland and sea intertwined to present different landscapes and seascapes to the human communities exploring the region at different times in the past provides an ideal setting for their study from a diachronic perspective This book deals thematically with the processes of circulation of people materials artefacts and ideas by examining patterns of settlement burial and multi layered interconnections between the different communities via land and sea It investigates aspects of regional and interregional communication isolation collective memory and the creation of distinct identities within and between different cultural and social groups It focuses on the islands of the Central Ionian Sea offering new data from excavations and surveys on Zakynthos Kefalonia Ithaki and the smaller islands of the Inner Ionian Archipelago between Lefkada and Akarnania The cultural interchange between the islands and the continental coasts is reflected in the volume with the addition of chapters dealing with contemporary sites in west Greece and southeast Italy The Ionian often regarded as at the fringes of the Aegean the Balkan and the central Mediterranean archaeological discourse has lately offered new and exciting data that not only enrich but also alter our perceptions of mobility settlement and interaction The collection of papers in this book enhances theoretical discussions by offering a geographically and culturally comparative approach ranging from the earliest Palaeolithic evidence of human presence in the region to the end of the Bronze Age
