Community Perspectives In Investor State Arbitration:

Community perspectives in investor-state arbitration Lorenzo Cotula, Bringing Community Perspectives to Investor-state Arbitration Marcos A. Orellana, Corporate Environmental Responsibility in Investor-State Dispute Settlement Tomoko Ishikawa, 2022-12-08 This book explores the potential of the current investor state dispute settlement ISDS mechanism to materialise the responsibility of foreign investors through the states counterclaims and defences at the jurisdictional merits and quantum phases In doing so it seeks to incorporate the recent developments of ISDS in both international and domestic laws of certain jurisdictions on corporate responsibility including the parent company s due diligence and legal effects of corporations voluntary commitments The book also reflects the interests and perspectives of the victims who suffered loss and injury due to investors conduct The author demonstrates that the current system does have the inherent potential to advance responsible investment even though reforms are needed to overcome its limitations Fully utilising this potential to reflect investor responsibility in IIA based dispute settlement mechanisms will help to develop practices based on greater due diligence and responsible business conduct Sustainable Investment Policy Perspectives in the Economic Community of West African States (ECOWAS) OECD, 2024-01-24 This report serves as a baseline diagnostic to explore ways to reinvigorate the reform of the ECOWAS investment climate while also improving sustainable outcomes from investment It also highlights areas where further collaboration between ECOWAS and the OECD could contribute to improved investment climates throughout the region Sustainable Investment Policy Perspectives in the Southern African Development Community OECD, 2023-11-04 The report explores the national regulatory framework encapsulated in national investment laws and how this compares with initiatives at a regional level investment promotion and facilitation in SADC investment incentives investment for green growth and responsible business conduct New Developments in International Investment Agreements as Regards Foreign Investors' Obligations Irina Artamonova, 2025-07-18 The controversial nature of foreign direct investment has raised specific concerns about the activities of foreign investors within host states and has triggered various reforms of international investment law particularly regarding the obligations of foreign investors This book explores the currently available international investment agreements to determine whether and to what extent they include investors obligations The main focus of this study is to assess whether the inclusion of such obligations in international investment agreements constitutes an effective legal mechanism to ensure that foreign investors behave in a more responsible manner towards host states and local communities Ultimately the research aims to answer a fundamental question do new international investment agreements contribute to making the current international investment law regime fairer and more balanced Gendering International Legal Responses to Environmental Chronic Emergencies Sara De Vido, Deborah Russo, Enzamaría Tramontana, 2026-01-14 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4.0 License It is free to read download and share via Elgaronline This incisive book presents a gendered perspective on chronic environmental emergencies including climate change biodiversity loss pollution and environmental degradation Derived from the innovative concept of slow violence the phenomenon of chronic environmental emergencies considers situational vulnerabilities and the disproportionate impact of these events on women International Investment Law H  l  ne Ruiz Fabri, Edoardo Stoppioni, 2022-05-19 Written by leading experts in the field this collection offers a critical and comparative analysis of the existing case law on international investment law The book makes a topical contribution to the existing literature showing most notably that 1 international investment law has a longer history than that generally considered and that this history is fundamental to understanding its development 2 international investment law is crafted today by a large number of actors These include not only investment arbitrators but also a variety of international and national courts and tribunals and 3 the literature and case law in languages other than English and from different legal cultures is essential to grasp the essence of the development of the topic This book brings together more than 40 experts from different countries and legal traditions and combines conceptual analysis and archival investigation of landmark case law to provide the reader with a fresh and innovative understanding of the breadth of international investment law

Investor State Arbitration in a Changing World Order Alexander W. Resar, Tai-Heng Cheng, 2021-06-22 In Investor State Arbitration In A Changing World Order the authors examine the sustained worldwide challenges to investor state arbitration arising from across the political spectrum These challenges have led to extensive and thoughtful proposals for reform from the international arbitration community domestic lawmakers and international bureaucrats These reforms play an important role in the continuous evolution of investor state arbitration and will enhance the quality of justice rendered However the authors argue these reforms are insufficient to resolve the domestic political challenges that investor state arbitration faces Only political solutions that justify for broad populations the international flow of capital and the independent resolution of disputes arising therefrom can preserve the institution of investor state arbitration Absent the more equitable distribution of the benefits associated with the international flow of capital political support for investor state arbitration will remain tenuous notwithstanding the significant de escalatory benefits investor state arbitration offers The Future of Investor-State Dispute Settlement Ben Beaumont, Fahira Brodlija, Robert Ashdown, Armand Terrien, 2024-02-13 What makes investor State dispute settlement ISDS as dynamic a field as it is especially in comparison with international commercial arbitration is its uncanny ability to engage directly with the most topical and pressing issues of the day including human rights regulation of the energy sector and climate change and the environment more generally This book provides a deep dive into the reality behind the causes and effects of the expressed concerns regarding ISDS and the extent to which they can and have been addressed by ongoing reform processes at national regional and international levels Deeply informed insights from leading scholars and practitioners on the status quo and perspectives of ISDS shed clear light on such aspects as the following reform instruments adopted at the UNCITRAL Working Group III issues surrounding the legitimacy of ISDS dispute prevention and amicable settlement mechanisms the proposed multilateral investment court implications of climate change and energy transition for investment policies and disputes recent regional trends in policymaking and perspectives the ICSID UNCITRAL Code of Conduct investment protection standards and dispute resolution mechanisms in recent international investment treaties viability of the modernized Energy Charter Treaty use of artificial intelligence and participation of civil society organizations As an in depth analysis of the most recent developments in international investment law and dispute resolution this book offers a realistic view of the reform processes thus underlining the necessary legal and institutional measures that will translate into real life effects in the future With its help policymakers and government officials will identify ongoing trends and anticipate risks that require intervention while practitioners and the broader dispute resolution community will find valuable information about the evolving contours of investment protection treaties and ISDS For academics and civil society organizations interested in the developments and implications of ISDS the book provides factual nuanced and effective analysis of the relevant issues

The Investor-State Dispute Settlement System Alan M. Anderson, Ben Beaumont, 2020-11-27 Investor State disputes are increasing and damage awards are often significant It is thus no surprise that the investor State dispute settlement ISDS system has come under scrutiny Perceptions have arisen that ISDS is inconsistent lacks transparency and is simply unfair This book delves into the ongoing worldwide debate and discussions regarding the ISDS system Drawing contributors from around the world the authors provide insights on critical topics and address the key question facing the ISDS system and the international community it serves Should the present ISDS system be reformed replaced or simply remain as is The contributors represent points of view ranging from academia to practice to governmental entities addressing such topics as the possible consequences of wholesale replacement or elimination of the current ISDS system mediation as an alternative to resolve ISDS disputes the creation of a multinational investment court or appellate review mechanism lack of an early dismissal mechanism to eliminate meritless claims issues regarding arbitrators including their appointment and ethical obligations how investors may retain their right to pursue claims for violations of investment protection following termination of an agreement a State s right to assert a counterclaim against an investor claimant the role of ISDS in promoting and protecting renewable energy production the liability of State controlled entities the effects and implications of third party funding the duty to mitigate damages in the light of excessive damages awards and improvements and issues relating to post award enforcement duration and cost of ISDS This book considers the ongoing deliberations and reform measures proposed by UNCITRAL s Working Group III and provides insights into how several geographic regions and economic cooperation areas have sought to address the question of reform of the ISDS system including the European Union the Middle East and the new United States Mexico Canada Agreement With its much needed and deeply informed balancing of investor and State rights and duties this book will be welcomed by all who practise in the ISDS field including arbitrators State governments and non governmental organizations regional economic organizations and international investors International Law & Trade Perspective ,1994 Piercing the Corporate Veil Doctrine in International Investment Agreements Anastasiia Dulcka,2018-06-01 Diploma Thesis from the year 2017 in the subject Law Miscellaneous grade 1 7 Humboldt University of Berlin International Dispute Resolution Master of Laws LL M Programme course International Investment Arbitration language English abstract The piercing the corporate veil in ISDS plays a twofold role From the investors perspective it is instrumental if a tribunal can ignore the difference between the legal personality of the company in which they invested in and the shares that they hold Per contra States also invoke this doctrine by trying to convince a tribunal to look at the true personalities involved and not to allow an investor to hide behind the veil of the different legal personalities To address these competing interests the author of this Master Thesis in Chapter II intends to analyse the characteristic pattern and standing of shareholders in bringing indirect claims aimed to persuade the tribunal to ignore the difference between the legal personality of a company and its shareholders and to look at the true interests at stake instead In Chapter III the applicability of the piercing the corporate veil doctrine will be approached from the States perspective and when they invoke the denial of benefits clauses On the basis of the foregoing this Master Thesis purports to address the intersection between the jurisdiction of the arbitral tribunal in ISDS and the concepts of investor and investment underlying the application of the piercing the corporate veil doctrine By doing so the author of this Master Thesis explores the provisions of IIAs commented on by authoritative treatises contemporary views embodied in articles and jurisprudence of international investment treaty tribunals In order to arrive at its findings and conclusions this Master Thesis utilizes the method of description method of conceptual analysis comparative method and method of evaluation

Garbesi,1969 Proceedings of the Annual Meeting American Society of International Law,2001 The Concept of the State in Investor-State Arbitration Todd Tucker,2017 Many legal writings on investor state dispute settlement ISDS consider the State primarily in its practical dimension as a respondent or treaty negotiator International lawyers certainly work with a concept of the State but it often consists of little more than the criteria of statehood population territory government and independence expressed in the Montevideo Convention on Rights and Duties of States These criteria say little to nothing about how modern administrative States should or do interact with economic and political actors within their territories Certainly some arbitrators and treaties defer to States regulatory prerogatives in greater or lesser degree But absent a consistent theory of appropriate State behavior vis vis other economic actors there is a risk that some State society interactions that promote long run development may also trigger treaty liability under international investment agreements in the short term This chapter has two goals First it hopes to introduce readers in the legal community to some of the ways in which social scientists study the State and various judicial processes Second it shows that investment arbitrators are already working with concepts of the State even if these do not
