Task: Selective teacher special cases, or low-ambiguity examples, the set of knowledge that best summarizes them, and then using those things, focus on finding every type of error response and then explaining how wrong that error is, and how it is fixed by the strategy of the selected case. In contrast, teacher is encouraging students to generate their own best cases, and then to try to understand the structure of the entire set of cases in which the error occurred.

A long time ago, people made their houses from mud bricks. In the middle of the 19th century, after a period of brick-making, people started to use stone in building a brick-making system. This was done in a way that was not only better for workers in general, it was also better for the environment.
