International Private Equity Christian Loelke,2009 The study at hand developed a framework to analyze the development stage and attractiveness of private equity PE markets for international private equity firms Once this framework was developed it was applied to analyze the Chinese PE market This country analysis revealed great potential for cross border PE investments in China First this potential derives from an increasing demand for PE since China s communist heritage and short history of private enterprises led to a lack of equity capital and a need for Western business expertise Second China offers an increasing supply of deal opportunities foremost due to the privatization of state owned enterprises The framework also highlighted the high risks and uncertainties that are involved with PE investments in China These risks originate from underdeveloped institutions such as an inefficient banking system and stock markets insufficient market regulations and low investor protection This study comes to the conclusion that international PE firms in China might initially yield a lower return on their investments compared to mature markets However as the PE market continues to evolve international PE firms should consider investing a fraction of their portfolio in China to get accustomed to the Chinese business context and be prepared once the market becomes more developed and finally profitable
