a new history of financial crises showing how some led to greater globalization while others kept nations apart The eminent economic historian Harold James presents a new perspective on financial crises dividing them into good crises which ultimately expand markets and globalization and bad crises which result in a smaller less prosperous world Examining seven turning points in financial history from the depression of the 1840s through the Great Depression of the 1930s to the Covid 19 crisis James shows how crashes prompted by a lack of supply like the oil shortages of the 1970s lead to greater globalization as markets expand and producers innovate to increase supply By contrast crises triggered by a lack of demand such as the Global Financial Crisis of 2007 2008 result in less globalization as markets contract austerity measures are imposed and skepticism of government grows By considering not only the times but also the observers who shaped our understanding of each crisis from Karl Marx to John Maynard Keynes to Larry Summers James shows how the uneven course of globalization has led to new economic thinking and how understanding this history can help us better prepare for the
