Content and Foreign Language Integrated Learning Yolanda Ruiz de Zarobe, Juan Manuel Sierra, Francisco Gallardo del Puerto, 2011 This series promotes specialist language studies both in the fields of linguistic theory and applied linguistics by publishing volumes that focus on specific aspects of language use and provide valuable insights into language and communication research A cross disciplinary approach is favoured and most European languages are accepted Language, Corpora, and Technology in Applied Linguistics Muhammad Afzaal, Swaleha Bano Naqvi, Geng Qiang, 2023-11-27 As culture and society has become more digitalized especially when computer science and digital technologies have entered a new era in the twenty first century translation studies began to utilize a wide range of tools to enhance its reading of texts and contexts without which translation both as a practice and as a theorization could barely persist It has become more apparent that two extreme poles between macro and micro visions have formed the diversified terrains of translation studies On the one hand technologies like NLP topic modeling network analysis and data visualization make distant reading become possible thus allowing us to have a paradigmatic view of how human s ideas beliefs values knowledge and even emotions have spread in some patterns across cultural geographical and language divides in world history On the other hand corpus methods such as the use of keywords collocates and concordance lines changed the way by which texts were closely read from linear to vertical With microscope like corpus tools we could go deeper into the texture for perception of nuanced meaning While considering a fact that translation is seldom mono modal in conveying meaning we have to reconceptualize context as a multimodal environment where audio visual and other resources interact to convey and make meaning With regard to the fast development of digital technology translation studies take an active role in gaining an enhanced capability in promoting transformation Complexity has been favored in terms of theoretical framework and methodology New questions are asked old ones revisited with novel tools but more areas wait to be cultivated and more questions to be approached by combining quantitative and qualitative methods We could ask if digital technologies would bring new innovation to study of translation history a heavily walled land for traditional humanists who tend to repeat so what to question the less significance of data driven studies The idea of high quality machine translation has become so realistic in today s market that translation educators have to face the shock wave it brought to translation learners and practitioners and rethink the relation between human translators and algorithms Machine translation assisted communication could help remove boundaries for better communication but at the same time it also creates conflicts and leads to confrontation Thus understood it is imperative to give a concerned attention to digital translation studies that is to study translation by resorting to and drawing on the digital technologies This Research Topic is intended to promote current directions and new developments in cross disciplinary critical discourse research We welcome papers which from a critical analytical perspective deal with contemporary social scientific political economic or professional discourses and genres Papers addressing the highlighted topics are especially welcome In giving weight to these topics we wish to call to attention some of the most pressing problems currently facing the world

TULEJA, 2016 Intercultural Communication for the Global Business Professional

Mara K. Berkland, Amy Grim Buxbaum, 2023-10-20 This text integrates business and communication concepts to immerse students in the global communication experiences of business professionals The authors argue that the essentials of intercultural communication such as nonverbal communication conflict meeting management interviewing and negotiations are most useful to burgeoning professionals when they are woven into discussions about economic systems market forces production processes finance structures and human resources priorities Each chapter begins with an explanation of theories and key terms appropriate for introductory level students in both business and communication then supplements that discussion with examples that demonstrate the concepts at work The cases chosen represent different market systems in both dominant and emerging economies explaining the cultures of competitive markets with a global perspective rather than focusing on the United States This book is ideal as a text for courses in international business or professional intercultural communication or as a supplement for more general business and communication courses Intercultural Business Communication Lill Ingstad, Susanne Lassen, Copenhagen Business School. Intercultural Organizational Communication Lisbeth Clausen, 2006 This book addresses cross cultural issues in business communication between corporate headquarters in Denmark and subsidiaries and alliance partners in Japan Japan is an important and interesting market for Danish companies as it is a highly profitable one and the quality expectations of Japanese consumers mean that products accepted in Japan are quality stamped worldwide Experience in the Japanese market also provides an advantageous stepping stone with respect to the rapidly developing Chinese market Nevertheless cultural issues and the complexities of penetrating the Japanese market provide substantial challenges for Danish companies This book presents and analyzes the cultural lessons learned from the perspective of both Danish headquarters and their Japanese subsidiaries and alliance partners The book is targeted at bachelor master and MBA students in cross cultural communication and management Business professionals will also find inspiration and interesting insights applicable to their own organizations concerning the management of cross cultural communication between headquarters and subsidiary alliances Intercultural Business Communication in the Global Workplace Iris I. Varner, Linda Beamer, 1995 The Cultural Context in Business Communication Susanne Niemeier, Charles P. Campbell, René Dirven, 1998 The Cultural Context in Business Communication focuses on differences and similarities in business negotiations and written communication in intercultural settings To set the scene Edward T Hall looks back at culture as an evolutionary concept and Charles Campbell explains the value of classical rhetoric in contemporary cultures Further contributions present case studies of cross cultural encounters and discourse aspects in various settings Steven Weiss explores the proper character of six cultures Chinese French Japanese Mexican Nigerian and Saudi Other chapters contrast English with cultures such as Chinese German Dutch Finnish and Irish The book closes with two chapters on training for effective business communication and provide models in

Successful business communication is more than simply speaking your client's language At the heart of all effective communication lies a fundamental understanding of human behavior The natural result of globalization is a level of behaviors that we all share and expect However underneath this level are many other influencing factors We tend to view the situation around us according to our own expectations which are often shaped by our cultural backgrounds What happens though when our cultures are so different that the expectations collide This book combines theory and practice in a way that helps you as a busy intercultural manager understand what others are communicating to you and those around you We take apart real examples of intercultural business interaction and show you how deeply embedded cultural norms are found within a simple conversation Then we offer you important tools and principles that you can use to improve your own intercultural business communication After reading this book you should have a good understanding of the basic culture types and be able to identify most cultures based on the principles described here Additionally you will know which social issues attitudes and values appear even in the most rational business negotiation Most importantly your cultural awareness will help you build successful and lasting relationships with your clients across regional and global boundaries      Cross-Cultural Business Communication Sven Rosenhauer,2009

La 4 de couv indique The purpose of the present thesis is to examine if and to which extent cultures converge in an international business environment and if intercultural competence has a bearing on it Therefore theoretical and practical insights in the subject of culture its implicit and explicit differences as well as its measurements will be proved      Cross-Cultural Business Communication Sven Rosenhauer,2008-12-02

Inhaltsangabe Introduction The transfer of business activities across nations is growing at a rapid rate The emergence of market economies in Latin America and Asia the collapse of communism in the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe and the emerging democracy in Africa have led among other things not only to increased global trade international multinational and transnational business but also to an increased demand for international workforce since firms must employ people who possess international business skills in order to remain competitive in the global marketplace How often does it happen that we meet someone doing business in the United States after representing his/her company in Asia Middle East or Europe How often do we meet someone obtaining an international degree abroad before doing business in China France or Scandinavia How often do companies require international experiences mobility and flexibility The soft skills of intercultural competence and open mindedness to cultural diversity are taught by universities around the world But what happens with our own cultural identity while doing business worldwide What happens if we conduct business in Japan but with an Italian colleague who lived in S o Paulo for many years Are we just applying intercultural competence or are we developing a universal business culture apart from our own national culture How does an international workforce communicate is it adapting the communication style of the host country of a majority culture or is it developing a communication style which is unique in international business Are we speaking the same language at the end Is the understanding of cultural diversity becoming less substantial and more implicit If companies and organizations require the indispensable and vague defined soft skills of intercultural competence could these skills be seen as an approach towards a universal business culture likewise a universal business communication Purpose of the Present Thesis The purpose of the present thesis is to examine if and to which extent cultures converge in an international business environment and if intercultural competence has a bearing on it Therefore theoretical and practical insights in the subject of culture its implicit and explicit differences as well as its measurements will be provided Due to the fact that communication as a major cultural attribute is the most obvious level on which cultural
