Introduction to Aviation Insurance and Risk Management Alexander T. Wells, Bruce D. Chadbourne, 2000-01-01

It discusses aviation insurance in the United States and includes coverage of underwriting and pricing, risk management, premises liability, and workers compensation. Sample policies are shown. Airport Insurance Coverage and Risk Management Practices Ron Rakich, 2011
Transport and Climate Change Tim Ryley, Lee Chapman, 2012-07-17
This topical volume covers the intersection between transport and climate change with papers from the Transport Climate Change session of the RGS IBG conference in London, September 2010. It considers the role of transport modes at varying spatial dimensions and a range of perspectives on the relationship between transport and climate change. The Oxford Handbook of the New Space Economy, 2015-12-18
This handbook on the New Space Economy (NSE) offers the first comprehensive analysis of the contemporary space economy. The new is characterized by commercialization, greater participation of the private sector, innovation, and increased engagement of national governments. Using multiple approaches, the volume conceptualizes the boundaries of an emerging field of inquiry characterized by continuity and change and involving terrestrial and extraterrestrial activities. It covers the fundamental economic, institutional, and technological dynamics and assesses the socio-economic impact of the NSE. Largely a US and European phenomenon, the evolution of the NSE in other spacefaring nations such as China, India, Japan, and Russia is also examined. In The Oxford Handbook of the New Space Economy, chapters by both academics and practitioners systematically address the changing institutional arrangements, interactions between public and private actors, and the role of innovations and entrepreneurship. As constellations of satellites for earth observations, telecommunications, the internet, GPS, and other civilian applications tackle climate change and monitor natural disasters, the unsustainability of space activities due to orbital congestion and space debris is a reality. The 1967 UN Outer Space Treaty, which views space as a global commons, needs revisiting to address regulatory challenges in space mining and other uses of extraterrestrial resources. This volume advances the state of knowledge on the dynamics of an emerging new space economy, identifies key stakeholders, and opens up future research areas for policymaking. Introduction to Aviation Insurance Alexander T. Wells, 1986
Space Insurance: International Legal Aspects Katarzyna Malinowska, 2017-03-15
Insurance related to outer space activities has been around since the 1960s but has become vastly more significant with the increased commercial use of satellites. This book focuses on the legal aspects of space insurance in the contractual context, analysing space risk as well as the insurance terms used on the market. It offers the first in-depth coverage, both practical and theoretical, of space insurance from an international law perspective. Attending throughout to the important and problematic distinction between the space segment upstream and ground segment downstream in space law, this book deals comprehensively with such issues and topics as the following: the main hazards relating to space activities; the impact of new space technologies on the level of risk and insurance the differing types of risks attributable to various entities in the context of insurable interest aspects of the space risk allocation regimes and risk assessment the impact of the five space treaties the Outer Space Treaty the Liability Convention the Rescue Agreement the Registration Convention and the Moon Agreement on the subject and scope of insurance coverage the advent of suborbital flight commercial human space flight and space tourism in the context of emerging insurance risks the problem of space debris contractual aspects of space activities affecting the space insurance risks basic notions such as outer space space object in the context of space activities and related insurance coverage basic insurance principles and their operation in the space insurance and the adjustment of losses and the settlement of disputes in space insurance The author emphasises the need to understand the various insurance risks facing particular types of commercial space activities including pre launch launch transportation spaceflight satellite communications satellite navigation satellite remote sensing and space station operation Satellites are increasingly a vital part of many daily activities of contemporary society and the Earth's orbit is becoming ever more crowded heightening the risks of collision damage and claims This thoroughly researched book will therefore be extremely useful to lawyers policymakers and academics tasked with defining the scope of insurance coverage that accurately mirrors technological contractual and legal reality Its practical aspect will be of extraordinary value to insurance lawyers underwriters and brokers

Teugels, Bjørn Sundt, 2004 The Encyclopedia of Actuarial Science presents a timely and comprehensive body of knowledge designed to serve as an essential reference for the actuarial profession and all related business and financial activities as well as researchers and students in actuarial science and related areas Drawing on the experience of leading international editors and authors from industry and academic research the encyclopedia provides an authoritative exposition of both quantitative methods and practical aspects of actuarial science and insurance The cross disciplinary nature of the work is reflected not only in its coverage of key concepts from business economics risk probability theory and statistics but also by the inclusion of supporting topics such as demography genetics operations research and informatics Visit the encyclopedia's website where you can gain access to further resources and freely available sample articles www.wiley-europe.com/eoas Publisher Insurance, Climate Change and the Law Franziska Arnold-Dwyer, 2024-04-03 The insurance industry has found itself at the front line of climate change challenges providing insurance cover in relation to risks associated with climate change As risk carriers insurers pay claims for climate change related losses such as property damage caused by windstorms flooding and wildfires which have been increasing in frequency and severity As major institutional investors insurance companies invest in assets that may be increasingly vulnerable to climate risks Insurance regulators across the globe have therefore started to require insurance companies to identify manage and report on climate change risks that could pose a threat to their financial stability However managing and reporting on the effect of climate risk on an insurer's balance sheet is an inward looking perspective that does not stem climate change It needs to be paired with an outward looking perspective that takes account of the insurance industry's impact on the environment and the insurance industry's capacity to influence what policyholders investee enterprises and other business partners do to address climate change challenges For the insurance industry the key components of positive outward impact are impact underwriting and impact investment This book sets out the current legal and regulatory landscape for impact underwriting and impact investment Whilst the focus of research and regulatory interventions to date has been on inward impact in this book it will be argued that to take positive climate action that supports the Paris Agreement goals and the national and international Net Zero targets the debate should now move on to considering the positive outward impact the insurance industry can make and how we can create a legal environment to facilitate this The book puts forward the case for a new vision of the role of the insurance industry as climate action enablers and makes proposals for insurance products and risk transfer and loss resilience structures that can support policyholders in their transition to a Net Zero economy The audience for this book will include legal practitioners insurance industry professionals financial and insurance regulators policymakers and interested academics
