Interculturality as an Object of Research and Education Fred Dervin, Ning Chen, 2023-04-08 This book proposes a new method for working on the complex and polysemic notion of interculturality aimed at scholars students and educators who have an interest in enriching and challenging their own take on this somewhat controversial scientific notion Multiple examples of observability made by the authors are provided to illustrate the method The book helps readers to look at themselves as producers consumers and promoters of selected knowledge of interculturality This book represents an original contribution to the field by introducing the importance of observation and reflexivity in building up varied epistemic engagements with the notion of interculturality

Change and Exchange in Global Education Mei Yuan, Fred Dervin, Sude, Ning Chen, 2022-09-23 This unique book starts from the premise that students scholars and educators should be given access to a form of global education that is genuinely global Using the notion of interculturality as change and exchange as a basis the authors examine fifty discourse instruments e.g. idioms, neologisms, slogans related to what they call Chinese stories of interculturality. China, like other countries, has a rich and complex history of intercultural encounters and her engagement with the notion today, which shares similarities and differences with global discourses of interculturality, deserves to be unpacked and familiarized with. By so doing, digging into the intricacies of the Chinese and English languages, the reader is empowered to unthink, rethink, and especially reflect on their own take on the important notion of interculturality.

Intercultural Communication
Rona Tamiko Halualani, 2018-10-05
Written to encourage deeper understanding of and an active role in intercultural justice, Intercultural Communication: A Critical Perspective provides students with an in-depth examination of contemporary intercultural communication through the lens of power. Through this unique perspective, the book demonstrates how micro-communication acts, encounters, and relationships between and within cultural groups can influence and be influenced by macro-structures, organizations, and forces, and vice versa. The book begins by introducing the concept of intercultural communication and demonstrating how ubiquitous it is in our everyday lives. Subsequent chapters address the ties between culture, power, and intercultural communication; how powerful ideologies develop from cultural views and ways of life; and the interplay of cultural representation and speaking for or about a cultural group. Readers learn the ways in which individuals and structures of power shape identity; how different structures and groups remember and forget the past; and how racialization relates to intercultural communication. The final chapters explore power dynamics with regard to globalization, intercultural relationships and desire, and our roles in intercultural communication. Communication: A Critical/Cultural Introduction Deanna L. Fassett, John T. Warren, Keith Nainby, 2017-12-31
The third edition of Communication: A Critical Cultural Introduction provides a comprehensive yet focused overview of communication theory, interpersonal communication, and public communication and culture through the lens of contemporary critical theory. The text shows how we produce our world through communication, challenging us to explore power, ideology, and diversity through daily interactions, both public and private. The book begins with explanations of how communication relates to culture and power; how to distinguish between representative and constitutive communication; and how to build a message for an audience with an emphasis on social advocacy. Later chapters explore the responsibilities of speakers and listeners; alliance building; the application of communication theory in the study of identity and perception; the relationship between language and culture; nonverbal communication; and more. The text closes with a discussion of communication as a means of social action encouraging readers to use communication as a foundation for the advancement of issues that matter most to them Dr Deanna L Fassett is a professor of communication and chair of the Department of Communication Studies at San Jos State University She is the author of Critical Communication Pedagogy and Coordinating the Communication Course A Guidebook both with John T Warren Her published research has appeared in an array of communication studies journals including Basic Communication Course Annual Communication and Critical Cultural Studies Communication Education Liminalities A Journal of Performance Studies and Text and Performance Quarterly Dr Keith Nainby is a professor of communication and chair of the Department of Communication Studies at California State University Stanislaus His publications include book chapters in The SAGE Handbook of Communication and Instruction and The Invisibility Factor Administrators and Faculty Reach Out to First Generation College Students as well as journal articles in Liminalities A Journal of Performance Studies Language and Intercultural Communication and Educational Foundations Dr John T Warren was a professor of communication at Southern Illinois University Carbondale He was the author of numerous books including Performing Purity Whiteness Pedagogy and the Reconstitution of Power Casting Gender Women and Performance in Intercultural Contexts Critical Communication Pedagogy and Coordinating the Communication Course A Guidebook He authored articles for several education and communication studies journals including Communication and Critical Cultural Studies Communication Education Educational Theory and Text and Performance Quarterly
