

			Cross-functional teams are not without disadvantages. The team can take significantly longer to develop cohesion because members come from different experiences and backgrounds. Moreover, a team leader must take care managing team relationships carefully because there may be a high level of conflict in these teams due to not only body, age, and position conflict between the various parts of the organization represented by team members. For example, the employees in operations may be keen to purchase the latest piece of technology while the accountants on the team probably wish to minimize costs – conflicting interests need to be managed carefully.
