Mhudi:

Sol Plaatje's Mhudi Sabata-mpho Mokae, Brian Willan, 2021 Sol Plaatje's Mhudi is the first full length novel in English to have been written by a black South African and is widely regarded as one of South Africa's most important literary works. Set in the 1830s it tells the tale of Mhudi and Ra Thaga a romantic story set against a violent backdrop of war between Barolong and Matebele complicated by the intrusions of Boer trekkers with whom the Barolong form an alliance. It is notable among other things for the way Plaatje uses the past to explore the roots of the oppression and injustice suffered by his people a century later when the book was written. Mhudi Sol T. Plaatje, 2024-02-01 An epic historical romance Mhudi is the first novel in English to be written by a black South African writer and renowned as one of Africa's most important literary works. After witnessing the genocide of her tribe Mhudi wanders the land terrified of encountering enemy warriors until she is suddenly struck by a fear even worse than death that she is now completely alone. Upon crossing paths with the tribe's only other known survivor she finds herself at the centre of an extraordinary story of love, war and unexpected allies. Writing in the early twentieth century Sol T. Plaatje offers an incredible retelling of South Africa's history that refuses to justify the injustice that was endured. More than a classic there is just no other book on earth like it. All the stature and grandeur of the author are in it. Bessie Head. Some of the most compelling and celebrated accounts of the early days of apartheid. Trevor Noah. New York Times. One of the most remarkable books on Africa by one of the continent's most remarkable writers. Neil Parsons
