Herbert Ponting Anne Strathie, 2021-03-26 Herbert Ponting 1870 1935 was young bank clerk when he bought an early Kodak compact camera By the early 1900s he was living in California working as a professional photographer known for stereoview and enlarged images of America Japan and the Russo Japanese war In 1909 back in Britain Ponting was recruited by Captain Robert Scott as photographer and filmmaker for his second Antarctic expedition In 1913 following the deaths of Scott and his South Pole party companions Ponting s images of Antarctica were widely published and he gave innovative cinema lectures on the expedition When war broke out Ponting s offers to serve as a photographer or correspondent were declined but in 1918 he Ernest Shackleton and other Antarctic veterans joined a government backed Arctic expedition During the economically depressed 1920s and 1930s Ponting wrote his Antarctic memoir re worked his Antarctic films into silent and talkie versions and worked on inventions Like others he struggled financially but was sustained by correspondence with photographic equipment magnate George Eastman a late life romance with singer Glæ Carrodus and knowing that his images of Antarctica had secured his place in photographic and filmmaking history A History of Spectroscopy Emile Biémont, 2025-11-28 Understanding the nature of light is a fundamental question that has troubled mankind since antiquity It took a great deal of speculation and study concerning the formation of the rainbow to formulate the right hypotheses to explain the iridescence observed when white light passes through raindrops or pieces of glass For a long time ancient philosophers were far more interested in the propagation of the light than in its nature A History of Spectroscopy retraces the major stages in the growth of the various spectroscopic methods from their origins as well as the most recent advances and the hopes they raise for future technological progress With its multidisciplinary aspects it embodies a masterly and unique effort which has no equivalent in the published literature The present contribution will be read with profit not only by students embarking on a career in physics in general and in spectroscopy or astrophysics more specifically but also by students in many other related fields like chemistry biology medicine pharmacy and engineering Key Features The most extensive and detailed book on the history of spectroscopy Covers a period of several centuries extending from Newton up to the present day Discusses recent progress in different fields and subfields of physics and more specifically in the domain of the analysis of the light

Against Progress Jessica Silbey, 2022-06-07 When first written into the Constitution intellectual property aimed to facilitate progress of science and the useful arts by granting rights to authors and inventors Today when rapid technological evolution accompanies growing wealth inequality and political and social divisiveness the constitutional goal of progress may pertain to more basic human values redirecting IP's emphasis to the commonweal instead of private interests Against Progress considers contemporary debates about intellectual property law as concerning the relationship between the constitutional mandate of progress and fundamental values such as equality privacy and distributive justice that are increasingly challenged in today's internet age Following a legal analysis of various intellectual property court cases Jessica Silbey examines the experiences of everyday creators and innovators navigating ownership sharing and sustainability within the internet eco system and current IP laws Crucially the book encourages refiguring the substance of progress and the function of intellectual property in terms that demonstrate the urgency of art and science to social justice today
