Applied Aquatic Ecosystem Concepts Gerald L. Mackie, Gerry L. Mackie, 2004 W Merritt Professor A History of the Ecosystem Concept in Ecology Frank B. Golley, 1993-01-01 The ecosystem concept the idea that flora and fauna interact with the environment to form an ecological complex has long been central to the public perception of ecology and to increasing awareness of environmental degradation In this book an eminent ecologist explains the ecosystem concept tracing its evolution describing how numerous American and European researchers contributed to its evolution and discussing the explosive growth of ecosystem studies Golley surveys the development of the ecosystem concept in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries and discusses the coining of the term ecosystem by the English ecologist Sir Arthur George Tansley in 1935 He then reviews how the American ecologist Raymond Lindeman applied the concept to a small lake in Minnesota and showed how the biota and the environment of the lake interacted through the exchange of energy Golley describes how a seminal textbook on ecology written by Eugene P Odum helped to popularize the ecosystem concept and how numerous other scientists investigated its principles and published their results He relates how ecosystem studies dominated ecology in the 1960s and became a key element of the International Biological Program biome studies in the United States a program aimed at the betterment of mankind specifically through conservation human genetics and improvements in the use of natural resources how a study of watershed ecosystems in Hubbard Brook New Hampshire blazed new paths in ecosystem research by defining the limits of the system in a natural way and how current research uses the ecosystem concept Throughout Golley shows how the ecosystem concept has been shaped internationally by both developments in other disciplines and by personalities and politics

Likens, 1972 Modern Trends in Applied Aquatic Ecology R.S. Ambasht, Navin K. Ambasht, 2012-12-06 Organisms and environment have evolved through modifying each other over millions of years Humans appeared very late in this evolutionary time scale With their superior brain attributes humans emerged as the most dominating influence on the earth Over the millennia from simple hunter food gatherers humans developed the art of agriculture domestication of animals identification of medicinal plants devising hunting and fishing techniques house building and making clothes All these have been for better adjustment growth and survival in otherwise harsh and hostile surroundings and climate cycles of winter and summer and dry and wet seasons So humankind started experimenting and acting on ecological lines much before the art of reading writing or arithmetic had developed Application of ecological knowledge led to development of agriculture animal husbandry medicines fisheries and so on Modern ecology is a relatively young science and unfortunately there are so few books on applied ecology The purpose of ecology is to discover the principles that govern relationships among plants animals microbes and their total living and nonliving environmental components Ecology however had remained mainly rooted in botany and zoology It did not permeate hard sciences engineering or industrial technologies leading to widespread environmental degradation pollution and frequent episodes leading to mass deaths and diseases Pantai Acheh Forest Reserve Lai Keng Chan,2003 Biomonitoring of Polluted Water A. Gerhardt,1999-10-22 Biomonitoring of water pollution grew out of various disciplines such as aquatic ecology and eco toxicology It has now become a scientific tool for monitoring the degree of pollution of aquatic systems The present book is a comprehensive review of the field The most promising techniques used in the biomonitoring of polluted water are discussed in the light of their advantages and limitations Canadian Special Publication of Fisheries and Aquatic Sciences ,1989 Applied Ecology Abstracts ,1979 Applied Ecology Alden D. DeSanto,2012-12-06 This book represents the interests and attitudes the information and the philosophy that define my work and career as it has evolved over the years Not written as a substitute for any of the many textbooks on ecology it is meant to present the simplest and most direct approach to a complex field as distilled out of my work as an applied ecologist who deals with concrete daily problems in the real world context of economics politics and logistics I hope that it is useful to the reader who seeks an overview of applied ecology including sufficient specific detail to make that reader more comfortable with the field and more conversant with the capabilities and limits of ecologists and their tools Each chapter is followed by a bibliography which has two functions The first is to represent the main sources or reviews of information upon which the associated chapter is partly based The second is to give sources for some of the examples utilized in the chapter and some of the illustrations summarizing and clarifying the text which have been adapted cited or derived from those references In that sense I must most sincerely thank all those fellow ecologists who have preceded me and who have made my work far more diverse and interesting to me than might otherwise have been the case Catalog University of Colorado Boulder,2004 Subject Guide to Books in Print ,2001 African Zoology ,2007 Introduction to the Aquatic Insects of North America: Text Richard W.
