Hamlet and the Rethinking of Man Eric P. This Is My Flesh Jae Hyung Cho, 2022-01-28 In John 6 51 59 John describes the Eucharist of Jesus by modeling Dionysus In particular John 6 53 unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his blood you have no life in you is one of the most difficult verses found anywhere in the Bible To explain this a new approach is needed when one consistently contemplates why John uses flesh instead of body and This is my flesh instead of This is my body The Dionysiac ritual of eating and tearing raw flesh shows cannibalistic elements Unlike other negative descriptions of cannibalism in ancient literature Dionysus is described as both an eater and a giver of raw flesh By reevaluating the negative term of cannibalism John positively applies this Dionysiac cannibalism to the Eucharistic words in 6 51 59 Because emphatically and slightly ironically scholars arguments show that John 6 is still a hard teaching of Jesus Jesus hard saying 6 60 is a consequence of this cannibalistic language and the ambiguous features of Dionysus

Trapped in Thought Eric P. Levy, 2007-04-17 Eric P Levy s book investigates the mentality or attitude of cognitive apprehension expressed in Beckettian texts Primary areas of concern include how the Beckettian attitude began what concepts it invents or transforms to sustain its mode of thought how the mentality wards off factors which would refute or heal it and most paradoxical of all why this mentality ultimately reduces the mind to an estranged source of thought continuously repudiated by its own awareness The study uncovers the strategies by which experience is evacuated of all content but that consistent with the attitude registering it

Virtues from Hell: Survivors of Conflicts and the Reconstruction-Reconciliation Processes Fidèle Ingiyimbere,2022-01-01 This book offers a critical examination of certain ideas and values such as remembering forgiveness story telling through Truth and Reconciliation Commissions etc that under gird the transitional practices and mechanisms of societies emerging from conflicts It does so by making the survivors experience the supreme and ultimate judge of the legitimacy of such practices While many scholars have dealt with these topics this book provides a unique perspective on them by using personal stories narratives and memoirs of the survivors as a checking point of the theoretical elaboration of these ideas and values By means of an existential phenomenological analysis of the situation of survivors of gross human rights violations the book assesses how many resources are still available to them so that they can contribute to the processes of reconstruction and reconciliation of their societies This analysis constitutes the background for reading the rest of the book which challenges some assumptions and presumptions of transitional practices such as healing through truth telling or providing justice through reparations It does so by presenting nuanced suggestions on the ways survivors can participate in the reconstruction reconciliation processes without jeopardizing their own well being
