The Immobile Empire:

The Immobile Empire Alain Peyrefitte, 2013-05-21 In 1793 Lord George Macartney and an enormous delegation including diplomats doctors scholars painters musicians soldiers and aristocrats entered Beijing on a mission to open China to British trade But Macartney's famous refusal to perform the traditional kowtow before the Chinese Emperor was just one sign that the two empires would not see eye to eye and the trade talks failed The inability to develop a trade relation would have enormous consequences for future relations between China and the West Peyrefitte's vivid narrative of this fascinating encounter is based on extraordinary source materials from each side including the charming and candid diary of Thomas Staunton the son of one of Macartney's aides An example of history at its finest The Immobile Empire recaptures the extraordinary experience of two great empires in collision sizing each other up for the first time China Eileen Tamura, 1997-01-01 China Understanding Its Past aims to fill a conspicuous gap in conventional world history texts which are often Eurocentric and give scant attention to Asia Using role playing simulations debates primary documents first person accounts excerpts from literary works and cooperative learning activities this text will help students explore many key aspects of China's history and culture The teacher's manual includes a synopsis of each chapter and section learner outcomes definitions of key concepts directions for student activities and possible responses to questions posed in the student text The CD contains selections of Chinese music from different time periods and locales Liner notes include English translations of lyrics as well as historical information about each selection Everything Under the Heavens Howard W. French, 2017 From the former New York Times Asia correspondent and author of China's Second Continent an incisive investigation of China's ideological development as it becomes an ever more aggressive player in regional and global diplomacy Verlagsinformation Quest for Status Deborah Welch Larson, Alexei Shevchenko, 2019-02-26 A look at how the desire to improve international status affects Russia's and China's foreign policies Deborah Welch Larson and Alexei Shevchenko argue that the desire for world status plays a key role in shaping the foreign policies of China and Russia Applying social identity theory the idea that individuals derive part of their identity from larger communities to nations they contend that China and Russia have used various modes of emulation competition and creativity to gain recognition from other countries and thus validate their respective identities To make this argument they analyze numerous cases including Catherine the Great's attempts to westernize Russia China's identity crises in the nineteenth century and both countries responses to the end of the Cold War The authors employ a multifaceted method of measuring status factoring in influence and inclusion in multinational organizations military clout and cultural sway among other considerations Combined with historical precedent this socio psychological approach helps explain current trends in Russian and Chinese foreign policy Parliamentary Debates Victoria. Parliament, 1897 The Life and Principate of the Emperor Nero Bernard William Henderson, 1903 Empires on the Pacific Robert Smith Thompson, 2001 Enter America the ambitious upstart power that Schoenbauer Thurin,1999 Three men and three women a plant collector a merchant and his novelist wife a military officer and two famous women travelers went to China between the Opium War and the formal end of the opium trade 1842 1907 Their range of perspectives their acquaintance with one another and their similar scope of travel to Hong Kong the treaty ports and Sichuan lend intensity to their picture of China and the Western presence there What the travelers record reveals is a continuity in the response of the West and China to each other Susan Schoenbauer Thurin s study of these writings presents a rich tapestry of impressions biases and cultural perspectives that inform our own understanding of the Victorians and their views of the world outside their own The strange mix of opium and missionaries the aura of fabled Cathay and its valuable trade items the attraction and repulsion of the exotic otherness the travelers experience reflect the political religious and racial views of their era and explain the allure of the Orient that in part characterized their age Victorian Travelers and the Opening of China 1842 1907 is a remarkable look into the cultural past □□□□□□□□□□□□ □□□□□□□□□□
