Generative Artificial Intelligence and Ethics: Standards, Guidelines, and Best Practices Gaur, Loveleen,2024-10-10 The rapid advancement of generative artificial intelligence AI has brought about significant ethical challenges As machines become more adept at creating human like content concerns about misuse bias privacy and accountability have emerged Without clear guidelines and regulations there is a risk of unethical use such as creating deepfake videos or disseminating misinformation which could have severe societal consequences Additionally questions about intellectual property rights and the ownership of AI generated creations still need to be solved further complicating the ethical landscape The book Generative Artificial Intelligence and Ethics Standards Guidelines and Best Practices comprehensively solves these ethical challenges By providing insights into the historical development and key milestones of Generative AI the book lays a foundation for understanding its complex ethical implications It examines existing ethical frameworks and proposes new ones tailored to AI s unique characteristics helping readers apply traditional ethics to AI development and deployment

The De Gruyter Handbook of Automated Futures Vaike Fors,Martin Berg,Meike Brodersen,2024-09-23 How does automation affect us our environment and our imaginations What actions should we take in response to automation Beyond grand narratives and technology driven visions of the future what more can automation offer With these questions in mind The De Gruyter Handbook of Automated Futures provides a framework for thinking about and implementing automation differently It consolidates automated futures as an inter and transdisciplinary research field embedding the imaginaries interactions and impacts of automation technology within their social historical societal cultural and political contexts Promoting a critical yet constructive and engaging agenda the handbook invites readers to collaborate with rather than resist automation agendas It does so by pushing the agenda for social science humanities and design beyond merely assessing and evaluating existing technologies Instead the handbook demonstrates how the humanities and social sciences are essential to the design and governance of sustainable sociotechnical systems Methodologically the handbook is underpinned by a pedagogical approach to staging co learning and co creation of automated futures with rather than simply for people In this way the handbook encourages readers to explore new and alternative modes of research fostering a deeper engagement with the evolving landscape of automation

Towards HRI of Everyday Life Karolina Zawieska, Mohammad Obaid ,Wafa Johal, Jessica Sorenson, Catharina Vesterager Smedegaard, Glenda Hannibal, 2025-10-03 Presently it is often assumed that at least in principle robots and social robots in particular have the potential to increase human well being across a wide range of sectors and application areas At the same time efforts to introduce such systems into our everyday environments have had only limited success and it is yet to be seen whether the impact of social robots on our daily lives professional and private will actually be beneficial Therefore there is a need to systematically address and study the long term use and presence of social robots in everyday environments where humans not only interact with robots but also have them integrated into the totality of their lived experiences in everyday life One of the main ways to investigate human engagement with social robots in everyday environments is through HRI studies conducted in the wild While such an approach has certainly been instrumental to and is increasingly used in HRI research we propose here to further expand the underlying theoretical and methodological frameworks to address the notion of everyday life The latter is viewed here as a useful concept and an umbrella term that allows us to address not only specific application domains for robots but also the continuity and totality of human lived experiences that emerge through long term engagement with social robots in everyday life contexts Placing social robots in everyday settings has often been an explicit goal for robot development however the notion of everyday life has yet to be systematically analysed and addressed in this context Therefore this Research Topic aims to bring together a wide range of disciplinary and interdisciplinary contributions to further develop the HRI domain
