The Principles of New Ethics II Wang Haiming, 2020-10-29 From Descartes to Spinoza Western philosophers have attempted to propose an axiomatic systemization of ethics However without consensus on the contents and objects of ethics the system remains incomplete This four volume set presents a model that highlights a Chinese philosopher's insights on ethics after a 22 year study Three essential components of ethics are examined metaethics normative ethics and virtue ethics This volume is the first part of the discussion on normative ethics The author sets out to discuss morality and shows how the reasoning behind it can be both good and bad for human society from various perspectives A system of an ultimate standard of morality is introduced and it is shown that where there are conflicts between different moral norms that cannot be compromised people undoubtedly sacrifice less important moral norms to follow more fundamental and important moral norms or principles The ultimate standard of morality is also the ultimate value standard for the evaluation of the goodness or badness of state institutions Justice is the fundamental value standard to measure state institutions Equality is the most important justice The Chinese version of this set sold more than 60 000 copies and has exerted tremendous influence on the academic scene in the People's Republic The English version will be an essential read for students and scholars of ethics and philosophy in general
