Peacebuilding and Sustainable Human Development Ayesah Uy Abubakar, 2019-01-07 This book presents the protracted right to self determination conflict between the Philippine state and the Bangsamoro group in Mindanao Philippines In the five decades of attempts to achieve peace a key element is the Bangsamoros search for a kind of development that is compatible with their aspirations for freedom and their future This book presents a study of the

Bangsamoro communities and their social constructions of conflict peace and development It examines the viability of the sustainable human development framework for application in their challenging realities The usefulness of the sustainable human development framework lies not only in its use of human development parameters like the Human Development Index It also provides an approach towards development that synergizes with the sustainable peace framework an imperative for Mindanao At the centre of this approach is the Participatory Rural Appraisal and Participatory Learning and Action methodology for eliciting responses stimulating discussion documenting verbal and non verbal ideas and carrying out small scale projects to demonstrate community participation The book concludes with two main points that a both sustainable human development and peacebuilding are mutually reinforcing frameworks aimed at achieving the same human development goals and b the pursuit of the right to self determination is enhanced as both frameworks are combined to provide a context for the attainment of peace in Mindanao Geography Education and Explorations on Human

Development and Culture Honrubia-Montesinos, Cristina, Morcillo-Martínez, Antonio, 2025-01-02 Geography plays a pivotal role in shaping the development of societies worldwide influencing cultural practices economic activities and political structures Through the study of human geography examining the spatial distribution of populations resources and activities we gain insights into the intricate dynamics of societal evolution This field provides a framework for understanding the interconnections between human activities and the natural world while fostering critical thinking by encouraging alternative perspectives and challenging conventional wisdom Such analytical exploration cultivates nuanced independent thought essential for active citizenship in a complex rapidly changing world Geography Education and Explorations on Human Development and Culture provides a theoretical practical and global vision of geography It further provides various research around geography culture and education Covering topics including intercultural skills citizen participation and disaster risk reduction this book is an excellent resource for educators researchers scientists academicians professionals and more

Exploring the Dynamics of Human Development Catherine Raeff, 2016-06-06 Researchers and students in developmental psychology have pointed out that the numerous findings from research about human development seem disconnected and that it is difficult to fit fragmented bits of information together Studies of separate domains of functioning e g cognition emotion language social relationships identity divide the field and there are increasing calls for integrative conceptions of human development In Exploring the Dynamics of Human Development Dr Catherine Raeff constructs a theoretical framework that enables readers to reconcile seemingly disparate information by thinking systematically about dynamic developmental processes This approach integrates systems theory organismic developmental theory and sociocultural theory as well as research across cultures and the life span Raeff brings developmental processes into coherence by building a unified theoretical framework that is organized around the following questions What develops during development What happens during development and How does development happen Using a wide range of illustrative empirical examples Raeff conceptualizes what happens during development in terms of differentiation and integration and explains how development happens through individual social and cultural processes The framework helps to overcome confusion in the field and explore issues such as individual and cultural variability looking beyond age based changed to understand development and resolving fragmentation by starting with whole person functioning The framework also opens up new directions for research This book will be useful to developmentalists graduate students upper level undergraduates and others who seek an integrative understanding of the field as a whole and a systematic way of thinking about and investigating human action and development

The Development Economics Reader Giorgio Secondi,2008 This book draws together the most authoritative articles on development economics published in the past few years is aimed at undergraduate level and is suitable for students with little or no background in economics The main themes include poverty foreign aid agriculture and human capital and amongst those whose work appears cannot be counted Amartya Sen Jeffrey Sachs Jagdish Bhagwati Joseph Stiglitz Paul Romer Dani Rodrik William Easterly Robert Barro Kenneth Arrow Hernando de Soto Daron Acemoglu Muhammad Yunus

Anne Krueger Abhijit Banerjee Esther Duflo Michael Kremer and Martin Feldstein The reader focuses on the most recent and up to date contributions to the field of development economics Instead of collecting classic contributions which are already available through many sources the articles chosen reflect recent developments in the discipline for instance in the area of geography and development and include contributions that address recent events the dramatic resurgence of a debt relief movement The Development Economics Reader should be an invaluable resource for all students of the discipline

The Family as an Environment for Human Development Napoleon Wolański, Barry Bogin, 1996 The central theme of this book is the family as an environment for child development The diversity of research topics from evolutionary biology to the urban environment serves to emphasize the importance of the family as the filter which process energy and information from the greater environment into a form that can be utilized by the developing child The family is the source of biocultural reproduction The family reproduces both people the biological and reproduces the technology the social organization and the ideology of a society in those new people the cultural This book has four major themes 1 the place of the family in nature and human society 2 the family in historical perspective including differences between various cultural groups 3 the family as an environment for human growth development and education and 4 the family in transition in the contemporary world These themes are the subject of 12 chapters and a preface written by an international array of scholars The wide diversity of subject matter described in these chapters will make this book of interest to anthropologists economists historians medical professionals e g nurses and some physicians philosophers political scientists and some politicians psychologists sociologists and theologians
