Caesar Reader, A: Selections from Bellum Gallicum and Bellum Civile, and from Caesar's Letters, Speeches, and Poetry W. Jeffrey Tatum, Producing Ovid's 'Metamorphoses' in the Early Modern Low Countries John Tholen, 2021-08-30 Printers in the early modern Low

Countries produced no fewer than 152 editions of Ovid's Metamorphoses. John Tholen investigates what these editions can tell us about the early modern application of the popular ancient text. Analysis of paratexts shows, for example, how editors and commentators guide readers to Ovid's potentially subversive contents. Paratextual infrastructures intended to create commercial credibility but simultaneously were a response to criticism of reading the Metamorphoses. This book combines two often separated fields of research: book history and reception studies. It provides a compelling case study of how investigation into the material contexts of ancient texts sheds new light on early modern receptions of antiquity.

A Guide to Latin Elegy and Lyric Barbara K. Gold, Genevieve Liveley, 2021-07-27. Provides the necessary context to read elegiac and lyric poetry designed for novice and experienced Classics and Latin students alike. A Guide to Latin Elegy and Lyric explores the language of Latin poetry while helping readers understand the socio-cultural context of the remarkable period of Roman literary history in which the poetry was composed. With an innovative approach to this important area of classical scholarship, the authors treat elegy alongside lyric as they cover topics such as the Hellenistic influences on Augustan poetry, the key figures that shaped the elegiac tradition of Rome, the motifs of militia amoris (the warfare of love) and servitium amoris (the slavery of love) in Latin love elegy, and more. Organized into ten chapters, the book begins with an introduction to the literary, political, and social contexts of the Augustan Age. The next six chapters each focus on an individual lyric and elegiac poet: Catullus, Horace, Tibullus, Propertius, Ovid, and Sulpicia, followed by a survey of several lesser-known poets and post-Augustan elegy and lyric. The text concludes with a discussion of major tropes and themes in Latin elegy and lyric and an overview and analysis of key critical approaches in current scholarship. This volume includes full translations alongside the Latin throughout the text to illustrate discussions. Analyzes recurring themes and tropes found in Latin poetry such as sexuality and gender, politics and patronage, myth and religion, wealth and poverty, empire, madness, magic, and witchcraft. Reviews modern critical approaches to elegiac and lyric poetry, including autobiographical realism, psychoanalysis, narratology, reception, and decolonization. Includes helpful introductory sections: How to Read a Latin Elegiac or Lyric Poem and How to Teach a Latin Elegiac and Lyric Poem. Provides information about each poet and an in-depth discussion of some of their poetry and cultural and historical background. Features a dedicated chapter on Sulpicia, offering readers an ancient female viewpoint on sex and gender, politics, and patronage. Part of the acclaimed Blackwell Guides to Classical Literature series. A Guide to Latin Elegy and Lyric is the perfect text for both introductory and advanced courses in Latin elegy and lyric, accessible for students reading the poetry in translation as well as for those experienced in Latin with an interest in learning a different approach to the subject.

Aesop in Politics Ian Duncan Colvin, 1914. Sir William Arrol Robert Purvis, 1913. The Publishers Weekly, 1873. Seduction and Repetition in Ovid's Ars Amatoria 2 Alison Sharrock, 1994. The Ars Amatoria is a poem about sex and poetry, and poetry as sex. Witty and subversive, it is a poem of seduction about seduction: the seduction of the implied reader being initiated into the art of love, and ourselves as we are seduced by the poet into the act of reading the poem. This book offers a new and sophisticated critical assessment of the poem based on the close analysis of certain passages whilst at the same time being concerned with the reading of Ovidian poetry generally Dr Sharrock s study is overtly theoretical influenced in particular by deconstruction and reader response theory with an emphasis on intertextuality In it she discusses a range of original and important issues the traditions of didactic poetry and of elegy the nature of the addressee in literature the relationship between author and reader speaker and addressee poetic self display digression and relevance programmatic theory and poetic value under the sign of Callimachus This is an important and innovative work which should be of interest not only to classicists but also to literary critics and theorists in English and other literatures
