The Latecomer's Rise Muyang Chen, 2024-06-15 In The Latecomer's Rise Muyang Chen reveals the nature and impact of a rapidly growing form of international lending Chinese development finance Over the past few decades China has become the world's largest provider of bilateral development finance Through its two national policy banks the China Development Bank CDB and the Export Import Bank of China China Exim it has funded infrastructure and industrial projects in numerous emerging markets and developing countries Yet this very surge and magnitude of capital has raised questions about the characteristics of Chinese bilateral lending and its repercussions on the international order Drawing on a variety of novel Chinese primary sources including interviews and official bank documents Chen pinpoints the distinctiveness of Chinese bilateral development finance explains its origins and analyzes its effects She compares Chinese policy banks with their foreign counterparts to show that the CDB and China Exim while state supported are in fact also market oriented they are as much government organs as they are profit driven financial agencies that serve both state and firms interests This approach which emerged out of China's particular economic history suggests that Chinese overseas lending is not merely a tool of economic statecraft that challenges Western led economic regimes Instead China's responses to extant rules norms and practices across given issue areas have varied between contestation and convergence Rich with empirical detail and penetrating insights The Latecomer's Rise demystifies the little known workings of Chinese development finance to revise our conceptions of China's role in the international financial system Annual Report University of Georgia. Chinese Presence in Nigeria (1950s-2010s) Shaonan Liu, 2022-06-29 As the first book length work on the history of Chinese presence in Nigeria this book examines how Chinese migrants and the Nigerian state workers traders and consumers interacted with and influenced one another from the mid twentieth century to the early twenty first century Based on a combination of archival sources and oral history interviews this book argues that the significant Chinese presence in Nigeria Chinese owned factories commodities and entrepreneurs is not as recent a phenomenon as it might appear As early as the 1950s an influential yet understudied group of Chinese entrepreneurs moved to Nigeria set up factories and gradually came to dominate some of the country's key manufacturing industries such as textile and enamelware over subsequent decades. Such dominance remained unchallenged until the coming of mainland Chinese traders with their made-in-China goods in the late 1990s, dramatically changing the structure and influential pattern of the Chinese in Nigeria. The research also emphasizes African/Nigerian agency in shaping this Chinese presence, both economically and culturally. This is a vital read for academics, researchers, and students of African History, African Studies, Chinese Studies, and those who are interested in contemporary issues relating to Africa-China relations.

Municipal Power and Population Decline in Japan Fumie Kumagai, 2020-08-20. This book provides an insightful sociological study of the declining Japanese population using statistical analysis to establish the significance of municipal power using demographic data on national, regional, prefectural, and municipal levels. Penned by one of Japan's eminent sociologists, it provides a quantitative characterization of population decline in Japan with a focus on regional variation and identifies the principal explanatory factors through GPI statistical software tools such as G-census and EvaCva within a historical perspective. Furthermore, it offers a qualitative assessment of what constitutes municipal power as this relates to regional local revitalization as a means of addressing municipal population decline. Using Goki Shichido as a theoretical framework, this book pays special attention to municipal variations within the same prefecture, presenting a completely unique approach. In combining these two dimensions of analyses, the book successfully reveals the impact of municipal power and socio-cultural identity of social capital in the region from both quantitative and qualitative perspectives at the municipal level. Demography issues in Japan have been receiving increasing attention among researchers given the growing number of declining populations in developed countries in tandem with rapid aging and low fertility trends. Providing an original and unique contribution to regional population analysis in the fields of regional demography, historical demography, and regional population policy, this book shows that the revitalization of the community is vital if Japan is to increase its population so as to renew a community raison d'être. The book is of interest to scholars of Asian studies, more broadly, and to sociologists, demographers, and policymakers interested in population studies, specifically. Providing an informative and vivid overview of the demographic situation of Japan, the author offers excellent suggestions for effective regional policy in confronting a shrinking society. This book presents a unique analysis of the regional variations on small municipal levels with demographic variables, social indicators, and historical identities. An original contribution to regional population analysis in the fields of regional population policy, regional demography, and historical demography.
