Standard Guide for Sampling, Test Methods, and Specifications for Electrical Insulating Oils of Petroleum-Origin Liquids¹

This standard is issued under the fixed designation D117; the number immediately following the designation indicates the year of original adoption or, in the case of revision, the year of last revision. A number in parentheses indicates the year of last reapproval. A superscript epsilon (ϵ) indicates an editorial change since the last revision or reapproval.

1. Scope

1.1 This guide describes methods of testing and specifications for electrical insulating oils of petroleum-origin liquids intended for use in electrical cables, transformers, oil-filled circuit breakers, and other electrical apparatus where the oils are used as insulating, or heat transfer media, or both.

1.2 The purpose of this guide is to outline the applicability of the available test methods. Where more than one is available for measuring a given property, their relative advantages are described, along with an indication of laboratory convenience, precision, (95 % confidence limits), and applicability to specific types of electrical insulating oils.

1.3 This guide is classified into the following categories: Sampling Practices, Physical Tests, Electrical Tests, Chemical Tests, and Specifications. Within each test category, the test methods are listed alphabetically by property measured. A list of standards follows:
