conducted at the 1998 American Psychological Association Convention that arose when many in the field recognized the practical importance of measuring organizational commitment while maintaining a healthy concern for ensuring that this measurement was well grounded in organizational commitment theory Taken together the articles in this issue demonstrate the concepts of affective and continuance commitment and their underlying measures by using them in different military samples and under a variety operational conditions Dynamics of Autogenic Neutralization Wolfgang Luthe,1970 The Therapist's Handbook Benjamin B.
