Winter Meeting, 1981 Evolution of Metal Casting Technologies Muhammad Azhar Ali

Khan, Anwar Khalil Sheikh, Bilal Suleiman Al-Shaer, 2016-11-03 This book provides an overview of metal casting technologies starting from its historical evolution to casting design strategies that are being followed today in foundries and other metal casting industries. The details of most of the casting processes and their applications are also included for completeness. Foundry practices such as mold materials and molding techniques, pattern making and cores, furnaces, pouring, cleaning and heat treatment etc. are discussed in detail. Finally, current practices in casting design are demonstrated. Further developments in the field through computational methods and virtual reality are also described. Advances in Engine and Powertrain Research and Technology

Tigran Parikyan, 2022-03-29 The book covers a wide range of applied research compactly presented in one volume and shows innovative engineering solutions for automotive, marine and aviation industries as well as power generation. While targeting primarily the audience of professional scientists and engineers, the book can also be useful for graduate students and also for all those who are relatively new to the area and are looking for a single source with a good overview of the state of the art as well as an up to date information on theories, numerical methods and their application in design, simulation, testing and manufacturing. The readers will find here a rich mixture of approaches, software tools and case studies used to investigate and optimize diverse powertrains, their functional units and separate machine parts based on different physical phenomena, their mathematical representation, solution algorithms and experimental validation.

Information Sources in Engineering Roderick A. MacLeod, Jim Corlett, 2005 The aim of each volume of this series, Guides to Information Sources, is to reduce the time which needs to be spent on patient searching and to recommend the best starting point and sources most likely to yield the desired information. The criteria for selection provide a way into a subject to those new to the field and assists in identifying major new or possibly unexplored sources to those who already have some acquaintance with it. The series attempts to achieve evaluation through a careful selection of sources and through the comments provided on those sources. Defence Science Journal, 2004 Manufacturing Automation S. T. Tan, I.

Gibson, Ye-Hwa Chen, Y. H. Chen, 2003 This collection of 58 papers from the December 2002 conference presents recent developments in manufacturing automation with an emphasis on rapid product development and manufacturing. The researchers explore new approaches to design systems and methodologies, machining technology, intelligent systems, technology management and Internet based systems. Topics include CAD methods for additive fabrication of truss structures, radial force and hole oversize prediction in drilling, a hierarchical approach to assembly sequence planning and rapid prototyping of a differential housing using 3D printing technology.
