Lehmann,2016-08-19 Most project managers would agree that every project is unique But not all project managers would agree that the best way to manage a unique project is unique Many still cling to the old practice of having a methodology that is applied to all projects One size fits all is still in common use and this approach has proven to lead to project failure Flexibility situational intelligence and creativity are essential to deliver project success The need to recognize and master ever changing requirements and environmental conditions is a tough challenge for professional project managers The same practices that led to success yesterday may cause failure today Selecting favorable responses to a given situation is often the most critical factor of the dynamics of success and failure This book is designed to help project professionals assess a situation predict the appropriate approach methodology and achieving styles and then apply them in a situational fashion To guide project managers in selecting the appropriate responses Situational Project Management SitPM shows how to assess a given project determine its unique characteristics and select the appropriate methods to complete the project With this book projects managers can use SitPM to develop profiles of their projects on the basis of the projects physical characteristics the project teams behavioral characteristics the enterprise environment and the market environments receiving project deliverables These profiles help project managers to determine the appropriate project life cycle approach and leadership style The book also explores various ways to engage stakeholders on the basis of a project's SitPM profile The book's author Oliver F Lehmann has developed a set of templates to apply SitPM in practice It can be downloaded from www.oliverlehmann.com/SitPM_Templates.zip Innovation for Value and Mission Peet van Biljon, 2022-09-20 Innovation No other concept is so widely celebrated yet so secretly dreaded The reason innovation requires managing through uncertainty This is hard for any organization whether private or public small or large This book provides a roadmap for those who want to understand and manage innovation in all its aspects It explains both the how and the why of innovation its economic and policy context as well as the techniques by which it can be orchestrated along with the management systems needed to govern it Innovation is uniquely presented through both a private sector value creating and public sector mission fulfilling lens Topics covered in context include modern innovation and creativity techniques such as design thinking and the Lean Startup the organizational challenges of innovation as well as innovation project and portfolio management techniques Business model innovation and open innovation complete the picture from the manager's perspective The private and public financing of R D startups and corporate innovation are presented contrasting the private and public worlds while explaining how they complement each other Government innovation policy is discussed in its historical and contemporary context and the innovation policy toolset is introduced Continual innovation is vital for companies and countries to prosper Readers will learn why innovation must follow technological breakthroughs to raise productivity and economic growth and how innovation when done right can benefit larger society An explanation for unequal growth that some companies regions and countries are not seeing the full productivity gains promised by modern technology is explored in the context of technology diffusion No previous experience in innovation management economics or public policy is assumed and the book moves fast to equip the reader with practical tools and techniques Innovation for Value and Mission is suitable for an introductory graduate level course or as a desk reference for experienced practitioners and policymakers Because it connects multiple topic areas and contains ample additional references the book is also a great resource for those with expertise in one particular area of innovation who desire to branch out into other areas
