

THE GETTYSBURG ADDRESS

November 19, 1863

At the Dedication of the Soldiers' National Cemetery in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania:

Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent, a new nation, conceived in Liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battle-field of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field, as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.

But, in a larger sense, we can not dedicate – we can not consecrate – we can not hallow – this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it, far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us – that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion – that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain – that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom – and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

tried everything in its power to decisively defeat George Meade's Union Army of the Potomac unleashing ferocious assaults that inflicted nearly 50,000 casualties in all. When a crowd came to Gettysburg in November 1863 to commemorate the battle fought there 4 months earlier and dedicate a new national cemetery they came to hear a series of speeches about the Civil War and the events of that battle. Today it may seem obvious to invite the president to such an occasion but Lincoln was initially an afterthought and though he did come to deliver remarks he was not in fact the keynote speaker. Instead the man chosen to give the keynote speech was Edward Everett a politician and educator from Massachusetts. Everett had already been a Congressman the 15th Governor of Massachusetts Minister to Great Britain and Secretary of State and by the Civil War he was considered perhaps the greatest orator in the nation making him a natural choice to be the featured speaker at the dedication ceremony. Everett is still known today for his oratory but more for the fact that he spoke for over two hours at Gettysburg immediately before President Lincoln delivered his immortal two minute Gettysburg Address. Everett would later say I should be glad if I could flatter myself that I came as near to the central idea of the occasion in two hours as you did in two minutes. At the time however Lincoln and many others present at the event thought his speech fell flat and was ultimately a failure that would be consigned to the dustbin of history. Perhaps Lincoln's most impressive feat is that he was able to convey so much with so few words. After Everett spoke for hours at Gettysburg Lincoln's Gettysburg Address only took a few minutes but in those few minutes Lincoln invoked the principles of human equality espoused by the Declaration of Independence. In the process he redefined the Civil War as a struggle not merely for the Union but as a new birth of freedom that would bring true equality to all of its citizens ensure that democracy would remain a viable form of government and would also create a unified nation in which states rights were no longer dominant. 150 years later Lincoln's speech is still considered arguably the greatest in American history yet the exact wording of the speech is disputed. The five known manuscripts of the Gettysburg Address differ in a number of details and also differ from contemporary newspaper reprints of the speech. In fact at the time few Americans knew the president had even given a speech at Gettysburg and the Gettysburg Address was not widely covered in newspapers. The irony is lost on few given that the Gettysburg Address continues to represent a concise and eloquent statement on the very purpose of the United States.

Almost five months after the Civil War's deadliest clash President Abraham Lincoln and other Union leaders gathered to dedicate the Soldiers National Cemetery in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. The program for the occasion featured music, prayer, orations, and benedictions. In the middle of it all the president gave a few commemorative remarks speaking for just two minutes delivering what we now know as the Gettysburg

Address Challenged to mark the enormity of the battle which had turned the tide of the war though neither side realized it yet Lincoln used 272 words in ten sentences to rededicate the Union to the preservation of freedom It remains the most important statement of our nation s commitment to personal liberty since the Revolutionary War and has become one of the most important speeches in American history a cornerstone of who we are as a country A century and a half later we still hold Lincoln s message in our hearts For Gettysburg Replies the Abraham Lincoln Presidential Library and Museum challenged presidents judges historians filmmakers poets actors and others to craft 272 words of their own to celebrate Lincoln the Gettysburg Address or a related topic that stirs their passions President Jimmy Carter reveals how the Gettysburg Address helped bring Egypt and Israel closer at the Camp David Peace Accords Supreme Court Justice Sandra Day O Connor reflects on Lincoln s dedication to the importance of civic education General Colin Powell explains how Martin Luther King Jr took up Lincoln s mantle and carried it forward Filmmaker Steven Spielberg touches on the benefits and perils of hero worship Poet Laureate Billy Collins explores the dichotomy between the private man who wrote poetry My Childhood Home I See Again and the president who stood before all Attorney Alan Dershowitz echoes Lincoln s words to rally us to the freedom from weapons of mass destruction Gettysburg Replies features images of important Lincoln documents and artifacts including the first copy of the address that Lincoln wrote out after delivering it the program from the cemetery dedication Lincoln s presidential seal and more Together these words and images create a lasting tribute not only to Lincoln himself but also the power of his devotion to freedom
