Whole Life Costing Peter Caplehorn,2012-11-27 Whole life costing has been a subject waiting to come of age for many years What was previously of mainly academic interest is now becoming a key business tool in the procurement and construction of significant projects With the advent of PPP and in particular of PFI details of the project life need to be assessed and tied in to funding and operation plans Many of these projects run to millions of pounds and are of high political or social importance so the implications of the life of materials is crucial A fundamental requirement of these procurement routes has been that the whole enterprise should be included within the bid so that a company takes on not only the construction but also the running and maintenance of any building Additionally as sustainability has emerged and grown in importance so has the need for a whole life time costing approach partly driven by governmental insistence At the heart of sustainability is an understanding of what the specification means for the future of the building and how it will affect the environment Whole life costing considers part of this and provides an understanding of how materials may perform and what allowances are needed at the end of their life This book sets out the practical issues involved in the selection of materials their performance and the issues that need to be taken into account The emphasis unlike in other publications is not to formularise or to package the issues but to leave the reader with a clear understanding and a sensible practical way of arriving at conclusions in the future

The Journey to Dissertation Success Elizabeth Laycock, Tim Howarth, Paul Watson, 2016-06-10 Are you about to embark on a research project for the first time Unsure which data collection methods are right for your study Don't know where to start By presenting the reader with a series of key research management questions this book introduces the novice researcher to a range of research designs and data collection methods Building an understanding of these choices and how they can impact on the dissertation itself will lead to a more robust and rigorous dissertation study This book is designed to direct your research choices with informative text and key questions advice from virtual supervisors and reflections from students Lists of suggested further reading also help to support you on your journey to developing an organised and successful dissertation project Researchers seeking support on their journey to a successful dissertation will find this book a valuable resource

Decision-making in International Construction Arbitration Haytham Besaiso, 2023-10-03 This book contributes to the empirical understanding of how arbitrators make their decisions on the substance of commercial disputes arising from international construction projects It is based on in depth interviews with 28 international construction arbitrators and on the analysis of dozens of international construction arbitration awards The combined experience of those who participated in the author's research amounted to hundreds of international construction arbitrations 300 cases in addition to several hundred international commercial arbitrations It presents the results of the first and largest research to be undertaken in this area and it will be useful to arbitration practitioners and scholars and to the wider audience of dispute resolution students practitioners and theorists In turn the book examines to what extent international arbitrators apply the law as the substantive norm providing an explanation for that and then offers insights into whether arbitrators in fact lean towards commercial and transnational norms to construe the parties contract before discussing to what extent international arbitrators take into account fairness considerations to reach their decisions on the merits of the parties claims The book also examines to what extent international arbitrators apply mandatory rules of foreign law Lastly it provides insight into the effect of arbitrators background characteristics on their decisions Written for arbitration practitioners arbitrators and legal counsel and scholars the book will be useful for both experienced arbitrators and those starting their arbitration career or studying for their arbitration qualification It will also be useful for project professionals involved in contract management and dispute resolution

Constructing Professional Discourse Concepción Orna-Montesinos, 2012 This book explores the fascinating role that language plays in the construction of non verbal objects by mapping out the ontological meaning of the specialised concepts and the domain specific knowledge embedded in them In doing so it provides a comprehensive linguistic insight into the discourse of professional domain specific communities and hence into the communication practices and procedures of those communities In this respect the book offers a response to the claims made by many of the most influential applied linguists today such as Vijay Bhatia 1993 2004 John Swales 1990 2004 or Ken Hyland 2002 among others who have consistently defended the need for applied linguistic research into the textual generic and social perspectives on the under researched interrelatedness of the discursive and professional practices of a discipline Specifically this book provides readers with an integrative multi perspective approach to the study of professional domain specific discourses While it mainly draws on the tenets of genre theory and discourse semantics it also nurtures from the theoretical and empirical foundations of applied linguistics cognitive linguistics corpus linguistics and ontological engineering The book starts from the analysis of domain specific texts as final written products with specific lexico grammatical semantic and rhetorical features to later enquire into the written products as textual artefacts closely linked to the social context of production and interpretation of the text This integrative approach provides fresh new insights into the way the processes of writing are affected by the community specific institutional and socio historical circumstances in which domain specific texts are produced

The Acquisition of Written Language Sarah Warshauer Freedman,1985 This volume addresses a central question in the acquisition of written language the interrelated roles of response and revision and begins to account both for the cognitive processes underlying learning to write and the social context of schooling Both perspectives are crucial to understanding the acquisition of writing The first section examines the language of instruction to see how response and revision are accomplished in instructional settings The second section investigates the role of the computer as respondent and the usefulness of its aid during revision The final section challenges both traditional ways of studying revision and past assumptions about parts of the revision process They offer a new perspective for studying revision and its relationship to response

Elementary English ,1972 SCC library has 1949 cur     Writing and Revising with Pencils and with Computers Kerry Ann Olson,1994     Educational Research Evelyn J. Sowell,2001 Are your beginning students sometimes overwhelmed by the prospect of reading research articles or writing a research proposal Does the notion of educational research make them anxious to begin with Is research a mystery to them This text will help Educational Research An Integrative Introduction is a brief basic paperback alternative to the typically long weighty hardcover educational research tome It takes a practical approach to educational research for beginning students Students who study its chapters critically learn to read research reports and to produce a proposal for their own research project Nine complete research reports in Appendix A provide illustrations of major ideas in the text chapters and are used in the end of chapter exercises The reports read include experimental descriptive qualitative and historical approaches The book presents qualitative and quantitative research as complementary approaches to educational research

Under Construction Christine Farris,Chris M. Anson,1998 Few composition scholars two decades ago would have imagined the rate at which their field is now developing expanding beyond its boundaries creating new alliances and locating new sites for research and generation of knowledge In their introduction to this volume Farris and Anson argue that faced with a welter of competing models compositionists too quickly dichotomize and dismiss The contributors to Under Construction therefore address themselves to the need for commerce among competing visions of the field They represent diverse settings and distinct points
