Disturbing Argument Catherine Palczewski, 2015-01-30 This edited volume represents the best of the scholarship presented at the 18th National Communication Association American Forensic Association Conference on Argumentation

This biennial conference brings together a lively group of argumentation scholars from a range of disciplinary approaches and a variety of countries. Disturbing Argument contains selected works that speak both to the disturbing prevalence of violence in the contemporary world and to the potential of argument itself to disturb the very relations of power that enable that violence. Scholars' essays analyze a range of argument forms including body and visual argument, interpersonal and group argument, argument in electoral politics, public argument, argument in social protest, scientific and technical argument, and argument and debate pedagogy. Contributors study argument using a range of methodological approaches from social scientifically informed studies of interpersonal group and political argument to humanistic examinations of argument theory, political discourse, and social protest to creatively informed considerations of argument practices that truly disturb the boundaries of what we consider argument.

Transformational Leadership Styles for Global Leaders: Management and Communication Strategies Roache, Darcia Ann Marie, 2023-09-26 The impact of transformational leadership styles, management strategies, and communication for organizational effectiveness and employee performance within organizations cannot be overemphasized. Leadership as a concept has evolved over the years based on situations, practices, and change management approaches in organizations. The evolution of transformational leadership in organizations is imperative to examine in order to motivate and encourage others to collectively support and work to achieve organizational effectiveness or vision and mission. Leadership needs a paradigm shift to influence opportunities and challenges in organizations such as organizational behavior, motivation, communication, and management functions. Transformational Leadership Styles: Management Strategies and Communication for Global Leaders aims to provide relevant theoretical, conceptual, and procedural frameworks and the latest empirical research findings that critically examine the areas of leadership, leadership styles, management studies, and communication for leaders globally. It is ideal for multi-sectoral interests in business and educational organizations: chief executive officers, executive members, team leaders, industry leaders, human resource directors, and personnel, leadership and management, and practitioners.

Yan Xiao, 2003 This project was initiated to develop a phenomenology of team leadership and distant leadership in a highly dynamic potentially extremely stressful domain trauma patient resuscitation A series of five studies were conducted to understand team leadership in trauma teams One of the studies was a field experiment in which the location of the team leader was assigned to a distant location connected to the rest of the team through telecommunication linkages The studies used a variety of qualitative and quantitative methods In contrast to previous frameworks of leadership the current project depicted detailed team leadership processes and structures critical to the success of action teams These processes include adaptation of team structures in response to task urgency team experience and distance the fluidity of leadership functions performed by various members of a team and a multitude of leadership functions The contribution of the project should be mainly in its depiction of the complex and fluid nature of team leadership for teams that are multi disciplinary highly learning
