toilet paper rubber boots wooden flooring telephone cable and a bunch of other unrelated products The firm entered the telecommunication business in the 1960s when it started making radio transmission equipment and it strengthened its position in that industry during the 1980s when it introduced the first fully digital telephone exchange in Europe and introduced the world's first mobile car phone though at 22 pounds the phone wasn't all that mobile and was marketed mainly as a business tool Today Nokia is the world leader in mobility leadin

A compendium on international trade in Lesotho, 2025-09-15 International trade is a topic that is important for all states regardless of their level of development Trade can directly increase foreign exchange earnings and allow consumers to access desired foreign goods and services Indirectly trade potentially increases employment and improves technology via spillover effects It ultimately improves economic growth and enhances living standards Conversely there can be negative effects to trade especially when imports are high Examples are jobs being outsourced increased economic dependence de industrialisation in importing countries as well as exposure to negative external shocks Therefore it is crucial to critically examine the multifaceted ways that international trade manifests in any economy It is on this premise that this compendium interrogates various aspects of international trade in the context of Lesotho Although Lesotho is a small country it is strategically located relative to South Africa which gives it several trade advantages The country is willing to engage in international trade and investment deals and it is a member of several significant trade agreements that facilitate its integration into regional and global markets Examples of these are the African Growth and Opportunity Act AGOA the Southern African Customs Union SACU the Southern African Development Community SADC Free Trade Area and the Tripartite Free Trade Area which combines the Common Market for Eastern and Southern Africa COMESA SADC and the East African Community Understanding the various dimensions of international trade in Lesotho is imperative for investors scholars and international business firms but published international trade literature on Lesotho is very scarce This compendium brings to light the implications of international trade on the history and legal political social geographical and economic realities of Lesotho The book will also have a wide appeal for similar economies beyond the particular geographical context of Lesotho

Sustainable Energy in Kazakhstan Yelena Kalyuzhnova, Richard Pomfret, 2017-07-06 Kazakhstan is rich in natural resources including coal oil natural gas and uranium and has significant renewable potential from wind solar hydro and biomass In spite of this the country is currently dependent upon fossil fuels with coal fired plants accounting for 75% of total power generation leading to concerns over greenhouse gas emissions and impacts on human health and the environment This book analyses the implications of the global shift to cleaner energy for a country whose economy has centred on hydrocarbon exports The challenge is urgent for Kazakhstan whose recent economic growth has driven increased demand for energy services making the construction of additional generating capacity increasingly necessary for enabling sustained growth In this context renewable energy resources are becoming an increasingly attractive option to help bridge the demand supply gap Chapters written by experts in the field provide a comprehensive review of the current energy situation in Kazakhstan including fossil energy and renewable resources and analyses policy drivers for the energy sector Emphasising that clean energy covers a variety of renewables as well as cleaner use of hydrocarbons this book argues that future technological change will affect the relative attractiveness of the various choices Recognising technical geographical and domestic and international political constraints on policymakers options this book will be of interest to an interdisciplinary audience in the fields of resource management and clean energy development economics and Central Asian Studies
