Scribbling Katie Hall, 2012-03-27. Katie Hall's poems are of the rare kind that pierce right into your soul, leaving a tingling feeling under your skin, matched only by the speechless silence enveloping the roaring storms in your mind. In other words, they touch you. Not as soapy pathos; on the contrary, they touch your deepest, poorly lit spots because they are so real and relevant. No matter if you have lived situations similar to what the poems get into, you feel that you are right there, right in it. You empathize not with the author or a narrator but with yourself. What makes Katie Hall's poetry lie so close to our own struggles and doubts are their way of spinning around the swirl formed by the eternal dilemma between needing and resisting, between shame and desire. Ultimately, between honesty and pretence. To be read one by one, reflected upon, and then re-read. If you are up to it, cause you will discover sides of yourself that you had forgotten about or stowed away. Now, with Katie Hall, it is time to find it back.

Bjrn Clasen A Corpus Stylistics Approach to Contemporary Present-tense Narrative Reiko Ikeo, Eri Shigematsu, Masayuki Nakao, 2024-09-15. Focusing on the growing trend of employing the present tense in storytelling, this book explores present tense narrative in contemporary fiction. Using a corpus approach, speech writing, and thought presentation in 21st-century present tense narrative is compared with 20th-century past tense narrative. An in-depth comparative analysis reveals previously undiscovered innovative features specific to how character discourse is presented in modern narratives. Notably, narrative tenses have an impact on thought presentation in present tense narrative. Free Direct Thought (FDT) emerges as frequently as Free Indirect Thought (FIT), a departure from the dominance of FIT in modern past tense narrative. This book will be of interest to stylisticians, narratologists, corpus linguists, and those who have found themselves absorbed in a 21st-century work of present tense fiction.
