The Craftsman Richard Sennett, 2008 The Craftsman leads Richard Sennett across time and space from ancient Roman brickmakers to Renaissance goldsmiths to the printing presses of Enlightenment Paris and the factories of industrial London History has drawn fault lines dividing practice and theory technique and expression craftsman and artist maker and user modern society suffers from this historical inheritance But the past life of craft and craftsmen also suggests ways of using tools organizing work and thinking about materials that remain alternative viable proposals about how to conduct life with skill BOOK JACKET Together Richard Sennett, 2012-01-10 Discusses why people tend to avoid social engagement with those unlike themselves why increased cooperation is necessary to make society prosper and the skills necessary for strengthening cooperation The Fall of Public Man Richard Sennett, Holly Stevens, Wallace Stevens, 1977 Sennett presses social theory and historical experience to his service in developing a provocative thesis that the public world stage has been usurped by the private psychic scene to the detriment of both individual and society Carl Schorske Princeton University Stimulating and challenging Christopher Lehmann Haupt New York Times The Placemaker's Guide to Building Community Nabeel Hamdi, 2010 From the author of Small Change comes this engaging guide to placemaking packed with practical skills and tools that architects planners urban designers and other built environment specialists need in order to engage effectively with development work in any context Drawing on four decades of practical and teaching experience the author offers fresh insight into the complexities faced by practitioners when working to improve the communities lives and livelihoods of people the world over The book shows how these complexities are a context for rather than a barrier to creative work The book also critiques the single vision top down approach to design and planning Using examples of successful professional practice across Europe the US Africa Latin America and post tsunami Asia the author demonstrates how good policy can derive from good practices when reasoned backwards as well as how plans can emerge in practice without a preponderance of planning Reasoning backwards is shown to be a more effective and inclusive way of planning forwards with significant improvements to the quality of process and place The book also offers a variety of methods and tools for analyzing the issues engaging with communities and other stakeholders for design and settlement planning and for improving the skills of all involved in placemaking Ultimately the book serves as an inspiring guide and a distillation of decades of practical wisdom and experience The resulting practical handbook is for all those involved in doing learning and teaching placemaking and urban development world wide publisher The Performer Richard Sennett, 2024-04-23 An acclaimed sociologist s exploration of the connections among performances in life art and politics A thought provoking essayistic and touchingly personal exploration of the ethics and aesthetics of performance from one of the leading intellectuals of our time Lucasta Miller The Spectator Best Books of 2024 Constantly fascinating and often illuminating Simon Callow New York Review of Books In The Performer Richard Sennett explores the relations between performing in art particularly music politics and everyday experience It focuses on the bodily and physical dimensions of performing rather than on words Sennett is particularly attuned to the ways in which the rituals of ordinary life are performances The book draws on history and sociology and more personally on the author s early career as a professional cellist as well as on his later work as a city planner and social thinker It traces the evolution of performing spaces in the city the emergence of actors musicians and dancers as independent artists the inequality between performer and spectator the uneasy relations between artistic creation and social and religious ritual the uses and abuses of acting by politicians The Janus faced art of performing is both destructive and civilizing

Singing at the Winepress Tyler Atkinson,2015-04-23 Atkinson uses Qoheleth s work ethic to provide an analysis of Ecclesiastes utilising the writings of St Bonaventure and Martin Luther Reading Ecclesiastes within a penitential framework Bonaventure offers a version of the contemptus mundi tradition that is rooted in his metaphysics His commentary is ethically significant for the way he detects the vice of curiosity precipitating a perceptual rupture wherein vanity comes to signify sin and guilt Luther on the other hand interprets Solomon as a wise economic political administrator who preaches the good news of God s involvement in quotidian existence This understanding enables Luther to read Ecclesiastes eschatologically with labour being seen as a locus of divine activity One may thus read Solomon s refrain as an invitation to labour with the expectation of receiving God s gifts in the present Finally Atkinson suggests that Ecclesiastes enhances current conversations regarding the theology and ethics of work by working the doctrinal foci of protology and eschatology through Christology The presence of the Word then can be found now only in the preaching and sacraments of the church but also in the labour of the worker
