The Wrong Kind of Women Naomi McDougall Jones,2020-02-04

A brutally honest look at the systemic exclusion of women in film an industry with massive cultural influence and how in response women are making space in cinema for their voices to be heard Generation after generation women have faced the devastating reality that Hollywood is a system built to keep them out The films created by that system influence everything from our worldviews to our brain chemistry When women s voices are excluded from the medium the impact on society is immense Actor screenwriter and award winning independent filmmaker Naomi McDougall Jones takes us inside the cutthroat scandal laden film industry where only 5% of top studio films are directed by women and less than 20% of leading characters in mainstream films are female Jones calls on all of us to act radically to build a different kind of future for cinema not only for the women being actively hurt inside the industry but for those outside it whose lives purchasing decisions and sense of selves are shaped by the stories told Informed by the journey of her own career by interviews with others throughout the film industry and by cold hard data Jones deconstructs the casual commonplace sexism rampant in Hollywood that has kept women out of key roles for decades Next she shows us the growing women driven revolution in filmmaking sparked by streaming services crumbling distribution models direct to audience access via innovative online platforms and outside advocacy groups which has enabled women to build careers outside the traditional studio system Finally she makes a business case for financing and producing films by female filmmakers
