Remember that an artist's drawing does not always have a single, fixed meaning. The subject's face and the hands on the table.

PROBLEM 1.2

Domestic Interior, Women

Make a drawing in which you combine aspects of figures in space with the interior space of your subject. In this exercise, we have taken the figure from the previous exercise and placed it in the interior space of a room. Draw a woman sitting at a table, looking out the window. Use the same expressive line work as in the previous exercise, but now use shading and cross-hatching to define the interior space. Consider how the figure's position within the interior space affects the overall composition. The intention is to find a way to integrate the figure into the space.

PROBLEM 1.3

Domestic Interior

Make a detailed composition of an interior space, such as a kitchen. Use the same expressive line work as in the previous exercise, but now use shading and cross-hatching to define the interior space. Consider how the figure's position within the interior space affects the overall composition. The intention is to find a way to integrate the figure into the space.
