Series Editor: Peter Brett

Citizenship education should not be an isolated experience. Young people should experience the subject of citizenship in other subjects, in their learning. This series of text delivery books, working through writing and other learning opportunities in the classroom and beyond, will provide a coherent approach for the teacher.

Education for a Change Titus Alexander, John Potter, 2004-11-30 This challenging hard hitting book is about making schooling relevant to modern society It starts from the premise that our present education system is ill equipped to serve students and society in the twenty first century In a series of positive yet powerful and provocative chapters the authors look at critical issues shaping schools today with a view to set out the critical issues behind the headlines show evidence from research and examples of good practice stimulate public debate and rigorous thinking about how we educate children for life in the twenty first century provide practical examples of learning for the future present a vision for school transformation With contributions from a range of leading commentators including Tim Brighouse Jonathan Porritt Anita Roddick Charles Handy and Jonathan Sacks this is a must read for school leaders teachers policy makers parents and all education professionals

This Little Kiddy Went to Market Sharon Beder, Wendy Varney, Richard Gosden, 2009-05-20 This book investigates the way that corporations are strategically shaping children to be hyper consumers as well as the submissive employees and uncritical citizens of the future Sharon Beder shows how marketers and advertisers are targeting ever younger children in a relentless campaign transforming children's play into a commercial opportunity and taking advantage of childish anxieties She presents an alarming picture of how a child's social development through education health care and nutrition has become an ordered conveyor belt of consumerist conditioning Focusing on education in particular she also shows how difficult children are taught from an early age that pharmaceuticals can be used to discipline them or to make them happy

Current Issues and New Agendas in Workplace Learning

National Centre for Vocational Education Research (Australia),1998 This book focusses on what we know and how we think about workplace learning It is about understanding the complex and multifaceted field of learning at work and in settings related to employment It attempts to bring together what is currently known about research on workplace learning in ways which are helpful to researchers practitioners and policy makers In particular it focuses on the needed research agenda in this area The book seeks to capture the rich and varied work which has been undertaken on the increasingly important phenomenon of workplace learning and to describe it in ways which make it accessible It aims to generate discussion about directions for development of workplace learning and research associated with it
