Sourcebook of Interactive Practice Exercises in Mental Health Luciano L'Abate,2011-02-04 As a primary or an adjunct mental health therapy written practice exercises have proven an effective low cost way for clients to transfer gains made in therapy to the challenges of daily life and relationships These interactive workbooks expand on earlier self help and distance writing methods along a continuum of healing approaches from the proactive and preventive to the therapeutic and rehabilitative. But despite their appeal, large scale access to high quality materials hasn't always been readily available until now. The Sourcebook of Interactive Practice Exercises in Mental Health gives professionals a library of replicable evidence based clinically robust protocols and workbooks for a broad range of clinical and non clinical conditions suitable for individuals, couples and families. Luciano L. Abate places practice exercises in the context of current mental health and technological advances offering guidelines for administration, helpful case studies and caveats for those new to this type of intervention and features a wealth of complete protocols in these major areas: psychological disorders from the DSM IV including depression, anxiety, phobias and PTSD; couple and family concerns from intimacy to domestic violence to children's adjustment to divorce; lifelong learning, assertiveness, emotional competence, social skills and more; family support skills; preparation for marriage, parenthood and adoption; plus exercises derived from widely used psychological tests, e.g. the Beck Depression Inventory, the MMPI, behavior lists and others. Clinical psychologists, mental health professionals and psychotherapists will find the Sourcebook of Interactive Practice Exercises in Mental Health a therapeutic treasure chest filled with new approaches to intractable issues or unreachable clients, new means of viewing typical problems, even new ways for talk therapy to work with words.

Treating Complex Trauma Mary Jo Barrett, Linda Stone Fish, 2014-05-30. In Treating Complex Trauma, renowned clinicians Mary Jo Barrett and Linda Stone Fish present the Collaborative Change Model (CCM), a clinically evaluated model that facilitates client and practitioner collaboration and provides invaluable tools for clients struggling with the impact and effects of complex trauma. A practical guide, Treating Complex Trauma organizes clinical theory, outcome research and decades of experiential wisdom into a manageable blueprint for treatment. With an emphasis on relationships, the model helps clients move from survival mindstates to engaged mindstates and, as a sequential and organized model, the CCM can be used by helping professionals in a wide array of disciplines and settings. Utilization of the CCM in collaboration with clients and other trauma informed practitioners helps prevent the re-traumatization of clients and the compassion fatigue of the practitioner so that they can work together to build a hopeful and meaningful vision of the future.
