Protecting Children Online? Tijana Milosevic, 2018-02-23 A critical examination of efforts by social media companies including Facebook Twitter Snapchat and Instagram to rein in cyberbullying by young users High profile cyberbullying cases often trigger exaggerated public concern about children s use of social media Large companies like Facebook respond by pointing to their existing anti bullying mechanisms or coordinate with nongovernmental organizations to organize anti cyberbullying efforts Do these attempts at self regulation work In this book Tijana Milosevic examines the effectiveness of efforts by social media companies including Facebook Twitter YouTube Snapchat and Instagram to rein in cyberbullying by young users Milosevic analyzes the anti bullying policies of fourteen major social media companies as recorded in companies corporate documents draws on interviews with company representatives and e safety experts and details the roles of nongovernmental organizations examining their ability to provide critical independent advice She draws attention to lack of transparency in how companies handle bullying cases emphasizing the need for a continuous independent evaluation of effectiveness of companies mechanisms especially from children s perspective Milosevic argues that cyberbullying should be viewed in the context of children s rights and as part of the larger social problem of the culture of humiliation Milosevic looks into five digital bullying cases related to suicides examining the pressures on the social media companies involved the nature of the public discussion and subsequent government regulation that did not necessarily address the problem in a way that benefits children She emphasizes the need not only for protection but also for participation and empowerment for finding a way to protect the vulnerable while ensuring the child's right to participate in digital spaces Resources in Education ,1998-10

Which Way Now? Andrew Mellor, 1995 Five years have elapsed since bullying started to be seriously addressed in Scottish schools. In that time, central government has funded materials and the appointment of a national anti-bullying development officer to assist local authorities and schools in developing effective strategies. Within a national framework, local authority initiatives and schools have adopted diverse approaches. This report documents the progress made across the country, bringing together local and national initiatives. The information contained in the report has been drawn from a number of sources: questionnaires sent in September 1994 to education authorities and to teacher training institutions; documents prepared by education authorities, schools, and individuals; and data collected by the Scottish Council for Research in Education (SCRE) during the course of its anti-bullying development work and by the Anti Bullying Development Officer The focus is on policy training and support from within the educational system Central government local government school and teacher education institutions have all worked to raise awareness of the problems of bullying and to put in place ways of dealing with it This report will enable those striving to create an anti bullying culture in schools to draw on experience of others It sets out to inform the debate as to how to embed anti bullying strategies securely into the fabric of the educational system Chapters are Sharing the Past and the Future Summary Understanding the Anti Bullying Process The Role of the SOED Scottish Office Education Department Nationwide Themes and Strategies A Tour of Local Authority Action Input from the Teacher Education Institutions Anti Bullying and the Independent Sector and Future Action Appendixes describing anti bullying programs resources and actions account for about one fifth of the document Contains 62 references JBJ Colorado School Laws Colorado,2019 The Incredible Years Carolyn Webster-Stratton,2001 Creating Inclusive Classrooms Spencer J.
