Listening to Children on the Spiritual Journey Catherine Stonehouse, Scottie May, 2010-06-01 How do children experience and understand God How can adults help children grow their life of faith Throughout more than a decade of field research children's spirituality experts Catherine Stonehouse and Scottie May listened to children talk about their relationships with God observed children and their parents in learning and worship settings and interviewed adults about their childhood faith experiences This accessibly written book weaves together their findings to offer a glimpse of the spiritual responsiveness and potential of children Through case studies it provides insight into children's perceptions of God and how they process their faith. In addition, the book suggests how parents, teachers, and ministry leaders can more effectively relate to and work with children and pre-adolescents to nurture their faith, offering a helpful picture of adults and children on the spiritual journey together. The Magic Ticket David Hicks, 2024-07-16. When his beloved sister dies and his parents are too grief-stricken to attend to him, a little boy must figure out on his own how to process what has happened. When he visits his local library and a kind librarian hands him a magic ticket, he finds an unexpected sanctuary in the world of books. Could reading be the gateway to understanding and coping with such a devastating loss? David Hicks, author, and Kateri Kramer, illustrator, have created a tender and moving tale of loss, grief, and the healing power of storytelling—a love letter to story, to books, and to libraries as a space to nourish both mind and heart. Maria Mayo, Anythink Libraries. Recommended for ages six and seven and for grown-ups everywhere whose childhoods like that of the author were forever changed by the death of a loved one.
